

but it is possible to forget, good better—best. A. L. P.

THE PHANTOM CHAPEL.

On the forest-fringed crest of Buckley Mountain, south-east of Marlinton, near the line where the sun seems to pause in winter, and turns back after a few days, may be seen an interesting sky-silhouette. Its resemblance to a building is so apparent as to be recognized at once, and hence the term Phantom Chapel, and it would be a pretty name to give that locality.

Whenever there is any change in the trees it will vanish from sight as mysteriously as it first emerged into view. For hundreds of years it has been in building by unseen hands. No sound of saw or hammer were at their work on its outlines.

It can be discerned at all times of the day, but stands out with special distinctness just before sunrise. The front door and side-windows denote the presence of evergreens. The walls and roof are outlined by leafless trees and their branches, and its color varies with the hues of the sky forming the background. S. C. R.

THE BATTLE FOR DECENCY IN LITERATURE.—Richard Watson Gilder, editor of The Century Magazine, thinks this battle is just now at its height. In an article in The Independent on "Editing" he speaks of the editors duty to take part in the battle, and he pays his respects to the "realists" in the following terms:

"Reality" is a word to conjure with; any one who raises a 'blue pencil' against reality is in peril of losing his literary standing. The editor is prone to level things down; to object to the novel and original; he may be a Philistine; he may even be touched with hypocrisy. But if there is any greater humbug and hypocrisy than 'realism' can be I do not know what it is. Take, for instance, the single detail of profanity in the 'conversations' of a story. Did any one who has ever heard the thing in all its luxurious and picturesque reality ever see it 'really' reported? Is there a living realist who would be willing to put down in cold black and white to the extent of a foolscap page the habitual language of certain types with which he deals in fiction? and if he did so, would he be willing to keep that piece of paper over-night even under lock and key? The unthinkable blasphemy, the rank and violent vulgarity, they are as real as many other things outside of art. Say what you will, there is no realist who does not draw the line somewhere; and that line is at least as debatable as the one between Venezuela and British Guiana."

A LADY who lives in an inland town in New England went to the

ing from of one of ings. Ca and the fe children who was l
the same for him fi him large the mang

husband also, but sent to th treated w tendants oning po whole for ture, and

Mr Mo done ex classes, a days. M ing.

Three Ludlow
by way o is beco these da end of a and the c tied a ple

*...
If y
J
*...

The se
about C States ev cruel war

The w who has weeks; b

Mrs S poisoning the resul pin.

Here
This We down on menced
morning
"Send fo suggested ed him and refu
"We tu hospital fakir."
Bellevue reported About o
he was t tion, in taken to had a g
eat. Th have a got it.

BIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

By W. T. P.

RALPH WANLESS, a pioneer blacksmith, and progenitor of the Pocahontas branches of the Wanless relationship, was a native of England. It is believed that Ralph and his brother Stephen Wanless lived awhile in the lower Valley of Virginia on the Fairfax lands. About 1790 Ralph Wanless settled in The Hills, near Mount Tabor. Stephen located in Bath County, Va. Some of his descendants now live near Clover Dale.

Ralph's wife was Lucretia Nicholas, sister of William Nicholas who was living on Douthard's Creek, and an aunt of the late Thomas Nicholas, of the Indian Draft, near Edray, who was a son of William Nicholas. They were the parents of seven sons and five daughters. The following particulars are given respecting their family.

Anna Wanless became Mrs Reuben Matheny, and lived near Valley Centre in Highland County.

Mary (Dolly) became Mrs Alexander Campbell, and lived near Meadow Dale in Highland. Her daughter Laura was a very attractive and accomplished young lady whose early death was widely lamented.

Margaret Wanless was married to James Sharp, and lived on Thorny Creek.

Elizabeth Wanless became Mrs Thomas Hadden, and after living some years on the Greenbrier near the mouth of Deer Creek, went to Ohio.

Lydia Wanless was married to J. McGuire and settled in Ohio.

The sons of Ralph Wanless the pioneer were William, James, Levin, Ralph, Stephen, John, and Thomas.

William Wanless married Nancy Wilson, from Fort Defiance, Augusta County. Her widowed mother, Nancy Wilson, died on Knapp's Creek early in the century. Particulars in reference to William's family were given in a former sketch.

James Wanless was a local minister and a prominent citizen. In a former paper he was specially mentioned.

Ralph Wanless, junior, first married Anna Poage, daughter of G. W. Poage, of The Levels. After living in Huntersville several years as the village blacksmith he located on the homestead at Mt. Tabor. Their children were George Poage, Hopkins, Milum, Samuel, and Margaret. George P. Wanless was a Methodist minister of prominence. Hopkins Wanless married Amelia Dilley, relict of the late George Dilley, and lives on the homestead. Milum Wanless, recently deceased, first married Catherine McCarty and lived at the homestead. Second marriage with Laura Gam, of Highland.

Ralph Wanless, junior, had for his second wife Sally Arbogast, daughter of Benjamin Arbogast, senior, near Glade Hill.

Levin Wanless married Nancy Dilley, daughter of Henry Dilley, the pioneer; lived some years near Dilley's Mill, then went to Ohio. Concerning his numerous progeny no particulars in hand.

Stephen Wanless married Mary Pauline Sharp, and lived on Back Creek near the Irvine Brick House. While trying to shoe a refractory horse belonging to Squire John Hamilton, about fifty-six years ago, he was killed. His sons were John F., William, and James. Rev James Wanless became their foster father.

John Wanless married Elizabeth Bridger, and settled in Lewis County, West Virginia. Mrs Wanless was noted for her skill in nursing the sick and her services were in demand far and near. She was a relative of the Bridger brothers killed at the Aldridge pass in 1784 by the Indians. Frequent mention has been made of this mournful and tragic occurrence in Rattlesnakes, Bu and . . .

Washington Irving said, he supposed "Rattlesnake Hill" because it abounded "rule of contrary" governs other names. Sarsaparilla because it we don't know what they are full of, but we rilla; except, perhaps, enough for a flav make of sarsaparilla that can be relied on Ayer's. It has no secret to keep. Its physicians. This formula was examined mittee at the World's Fair with the result make of sarsaparilla was excluded from the rilla was admitted and honored by awards cause it was the best sarsaparilla. It rec best. No other sarsaparilla has been so Good motto for the family as well as the exclude the rest.

Any doubt about it? Send for the "It kills doubts and cures doubt Address: J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, ing attentions were to our people when regular physicians were so far away. Sick people had so much confidence in her that they seemed to think there was no danger of dying if Elizabeth Bridger could be had in time.

Thomas Wanless married Julia Bucher and settled in Ohio.

For about one hundred years this name has been familiar and identified with the progress of our people. For the most part, the Wanless influence has been on the side of morality, industry, and mental improvement.

The cheerful assistance of J. F. Wanless, Esq., and Mrs Rachel Logan hereby remembered.

Most all of the Wanless brothers were industrious and skillful workers in iron, acquired from their father, who seems to have been a genius in that line of industry, so useful to the people in pioneer and later times. When Ralph Wanless and his sons wrought at the anvil and caused the primitive forests to ring with their strong and resonant striking of hammers and sledges, their business was of essential importance. In their times most of the implements used in clearing lands, cultivating the ground, and building houses were made at home. In the pioneer shops, and for years subsequently, were forged axes, hoes, shovel plows, bull-tongues, coulters, brush-hooks, seng hoes, mattocks, broad axes, frows, grubbing hoes, pot hooks and hangers, kettle-bales, log-chains, double trees, single trees, door hinges and latches, and other articles rather tedious to mention, and still more tedious to make.

Toiling, rejoicing, sorrowing, Onward through life he goes; Each morning sees some task begun Each evening sees it close,— Something attempted, something done, Has earned a night's repose.

Thanks, thanks to thee, my worthy friend,

For the lesson thou hast taught; Thus at the flaming forge of life Our fortunes must be wrought; Thus on the sounding anvil shaped Each burning deed and thought. —The Village Blacksmith.

Kissed Him With a Hoe.

Sam Hanks and Lewis Gray were engaged to do some plastering at the residence of Mr Richardson, over in Reid's addition. Gray arrived at the scene of work first last Friday afternoon. When Hanks came and began to mix up his mortar to begin work the trouble commenced. This is the way Hanks told Justice Chesney about it yesterday:

"I was standin' dar 'hoein' de mortah, an' was a gittin' ready ter go ter wuk, jus like I oughter. Den fust thing I knows I sees dat great big 200-poun' feller stand da by de house, a shakin' his fis' at me.

"I dah yo' ter come heah,' he says.

"Go long,' says I. 'I don't want no trubble wid yo.'

"I dah yo' to come up heah. I'll spank dose ole pants off yo.'

"Shet up,' says I. 'I haint had dese pants spanked fo' thuty-five yeahs and yo' can't do it now.'

"Den he done give a jump, an' he come aruoning down at me. Say Judge, yo' tink I was gwine to let dat rasc maul me? Naw, sah. I got ready, an' when he come close I kissed him wid the hoe—right heah"—and Sam laid his cal-

BY MR

The wond
I love,
The bea
The fields have In the li
When we There's a
Because, I
We are

The frien
Love,
They str
By trial a Perchan
But the greeth
That we
The perilo
They mi

We dream
We loite
And toy w
Forever
Night falls
Too late
Dear Love
doing,
We only

Success

Capt J the Bord Co., has r S. Barrie C. Eastm the Galv the cattle pany shi the Lone had been after bein The resul pounds a Captain l strates tl every way cattle los the 250 m vestou, at in the 2,0 to New Y they last Cattle shi ago lose Tezas is i ing of cat and beef will equal It having shipment made fro he believe benefitted

We offer ward for a not be cure F. J. CHEN

We, the J. Cheney lieve him business ti able to can by their fir West & in Toledo, Oh ALDING, I sale Drugg Hall's Ca ally, acting mucous sur 75c per bott Testimonial Hall's Fa

FOREST

THE SP

Travel Advent Hunting Campin

FOREST A nal, devote and the ex mae of 2 de creash su a weekly six months Rec. We are labors of

BIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

By W. T. P.

RALPH WANLESS, a pioneer blacksmith, and progenitor of the Pocahontas branches of the Wanless relationship, was a native of England. It is believed that Ralph and his brother Stephen Wanless lived awhile in the lower Valley of Virginia on the Fairfax lands. About 1790 Ralph Wanless settled in The Hills, near Mount Tabor. Stephen located in Bath County, Va. Some of his descendants now live near Clover Dale.

Ralph's wife was Lucretia Nicholas, sister of William Nicholas who was living on Douthard's Creek, and an aunt of the late Thomas Nicholas, of the Indian Draft, near Edray, who was a son of William Nicholas. They were the parents of seven sons and five daughters. The following particulars are given respecting their family.

Anna Wanless became Mrs Reuben Matheny, and lived near Valley Centre in Highland County.

Mary (Dolly) became Mrs Alexander Campbell, and lived near Meadow Dale in Highland. Her daughter Laura was a very attractive and accomplished young lady whose early death was widely lamented.

Margaret Wanless was married to James Sharp, and lived on Thorny Creek.

Elizabeth Wanless became Mrs Thomas Hadden, and after living some years on the Greenbrier near the mouth of Deer Creek, went to Ohio.

Lydia Wanless was married to J. McGuire and settled in Ohio.

The sons of Ralph Wanless the pioneer were William, James, Levin, Ralph, Stephen, John, and Thomas.

William Wanless married Nancy Wilson, from Fort Defiance, Augusta County. Her widowed mother, Nancy Wilson, died on Knapp's Creek early in the century. Particulars in reference to William's family were given in a former sketch.

James Wanless was a local minister and a prominent citizen. In a former paper he was specially mentioned.

Ralph Wanless, junior, first married Anna Poage, daughter of G. W. Poage, of The Levels. After living in Huntersville several years as the village blacksmith he located on the homestead at Mt. Tabor. Their children were George Poage, Hopkins, Milum, Samuel, and Margaret. George P. Wanless was a Methodist minister of prominence. Hopkins Wanless married Amelia Dilley, relict of the late George Dilley, and lives on the homestead. Milum Wanless, recently deceased, first married Catherine McCarty and lived at the homestead. Second marriage with Laura Gam, of Highland.

Ralph Wanless, junior, had for his second wife Sally Arbogast, daughter of Benjamin Arbogast, senior, near Glade Hill.

Levin Wanless married Nancy Dilley, daughter of Henry Dilley, the pioneer; lived some years near Dilley's Mill, then went to Ohio. Concerning his numerous progeny no particulars in hand.

Stephen Wanless married Mary Pauline Sharp, and lived on Back Creek near the Irvine Brick House. While trying to shoe a refractory horse belonging to Squire John Hamilton, about fifty-six years ago, he was killed. His sons were John F., William, and James. Rev James Wanless became their foster father.

John Wanless married Elizabeth Bridger, and settled in Lewis County, West Virginia. Mrs Wanless was noted for her skill in nursing the sick and her services were in demand far and near. She was a relative of the Bridger brothers killed at the Aldridge pass in 1784 by the Indians. Frequent mention has been made of this mournful and tragic occurrence in Rattlesnakes, Bu and . . .

Washington Irving said, he supposed "Rattlesnake Hill" because it abounded "rule of contrary" governs other names. Possibly, labeled "Sarsaparilla" because t we don't know what they are full of, but w rilla; except, perhaps, enough for a flav make of sarsaparilla that can be relied on t Ayer's. It has no secret to keep. Its i physicians. This formula was examined mittee at the World's Fair with the resul make of sarsaparilla was excluded from the rilla was admitted and honored by awards cause it was the best sarsaparilla. It rec best. No other sarsaparilla has been so Good motto for the family as well as the exclude the rest.

Any doubt about it? Send for the "C It kills doubts and cures doubt Address: J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell,

ing attentions were to our people when regular physicians were so far away. Sick people had so much confidence in her that they seemed to think there was no danger of dying if Elizabeth Bridger could be had in time.

Thomas Wanless married Julia Bucher and settled in Ohio.

For about one hundred years this name has been familiar and identified with the progress of our people. For the most part, the Wanless influence has been on the side of morality, industry, and mental improvement.

The cheerful assistance of J. F. Wanless, Esq., and Mrs Rachel Logan hereby remembered.

Most all of the Wanless brothers were industrious and skillful workers in iron, acquired from their father, who seems to have been a genius in that line of industry, so useful to the people in pioneer and later times. When Ralph Wanless and his sons wrought at the anvil and caused the primitive forests to ring with their strong and resonant striking of hammers and sledges, their business was of essential importance. In their times most of the implements used in clearing lands, cultivating the ground, and building houses were made at home. In the pioneer shops, and for years subsequently, were forged axes, hoes, shovel plows, bull-tongues, coulters, brush-hooks, seng hoes, mattocks, broad axes, frows, grubbing hoes, pot hooks and hangers, kettle-bales, log-chains, double trees, single trees, door hinges and latches, and other articles rather tedious to mention, and still more tedious to make.

Toiling, rejoicing, sorrowing, Onward through life he goes; Each morning sees some task begun Each evening sees it close,— Something attempted, something done. Has earned a night's repose.

Thanks, thanks to thee, my worthy friend,

For the lesson thou hast taught; Thus at the flaming forge of life Our fortunes must be wrought; Thus on the sounding anvil shaped Each burning deed and thought. —The Village Blacksmith.

Kissed Him With a Hoe.

Sam Hanks and Lewis Gray were engaged to do some plastering at the residence of Mr Richardson, over in Reid's addition. Gray arrived at the scene of work first last Friday afternoon. When Hanks came and began to mix up his mortar to begin work the trouble commenced. This is the way Hanks told Justice Chesney about it yesterday:

"I was standin' dar 'hoein' de mortah, an' was a gittin' ready ter go ter wuk, jus like I oughter. Den fust thing I knows I sees dat great big 200-poun' feller stand da by de house, a shakin' his fis' at me.

"I dah yo' ter come heah,' he says.

"Go long,' says I. 'I don't want no trubble wid yo.'

"I dah yo' to come up heah. I'll spank dose ole pants off yo.'

"Shet up,' says I. 'I haint had dese pants spanked fo' thuty-five yeahs and yo' can't do it now.'

"Den he done give a jump, an' he come aruoning down at me. Say Judge, yo' tink I was gwine to let dat rasc maul me? Naw, sah. I 'er got ready, an' when he come close I kissed him wid the hoe—right heah"—and Sam laid his cal-

BY MR

The wond
I ove,
The bea
The field have
In the li
When we There's a Because, I
We are

The frien
Love,
They str
By trial a Perchan
But the greeth
That we
The perilo
They mi

We dream
We loite
And toy w
Forever
Night falls
Too late
Dear Love
doing,
We only

Success

Capt J the Bord Co., has r S. Barrie C. Eastm the Galv the cattle pany shi the Lone had been after bein The resul pounds a Captain l strates tl every way cattle los the 250 m vestou, at in the 2,0 to New Y they last Cattle shi ago lose Tezas is i ing of cat and beef will equal It having shipment made fro he believe benefitted

We offer ward for a not be cure F. J. CHEN

We, the J. Cheney lieve him business ti able to can by their fir West & in Toledo, Oh ALDING, I sale Drugg Hall's Ca ally, acting mucous sur 75c per boti Testimonial Hall's Fa

FOREST

THE SP

Travel Advent Hunting Campin

FOREST A nal, devote and the ex mae of 2 de creah su a Wally, six months Rec. We are labors of

FOOTBALL.

Frost, 4; Oak Grove, 1.

A lively game of football was played at Frost Saturday. Frost won the toss and chose the east goal. Oak Grove forced the play for about five minutes, when Frost settled down and carried the ball back. The most terrific rushing of the whole game was now engaged in, and Upton Sharp was the man who made the lucky shot for Frost. This was the only goal scored on either side in the half.

Shortly after recommencing play the visitor's goal keeper fumbled a hardly pressed ball and C. Sharp drove it through. A. Sharp was the next man to score for Frost.

The Oak Grove men stood the contest very well, notwithstanding some of them were completely knocked out and had to call on substitutes. Now C. C. Sharp after a magnificent run through the backs scored goal no. 4. Desultory play was then indulged in, and this time the home goal fumbled an easy one, the final score standing 4-1.

OAK GROVE - Jim Sutton (goal), Ezra Wooddell, Blake King (fullback), Sandy Sutton, Harrison Sheets, Jesse Hudson (half backs), Ed Hudson, C., John Galford, Chris Dilley, Ward Hudson, Craig Ashford (forward.)

FROST - Sherman Gibson (goal), Grant Dilley, Butler Sharp (fullback), Sherman Curry, Holmes Sharp, George Sharp (half backs), C. C. Sharp (C) Upton Sharp, Aton Sharp, Warwick Shinnaberry, Charles K. Moore (forward.)

G. S. W.

Blake King went from Marlinton to play his position with Oak Grove.

The Frost team can very well lay claim to the championship of Pocahontas for 1897.

It is very necessary to the life of the game that the goal keeper sometimes fumble the ball, public opinion to the contrary notwithstanding. Otherwise few points would ever be scored.

The Pen or the Sword.

The Marlinton school, taught by Misses Lillie Friel and Rella Clark closed its sessions last Friday. At night pleasing elocutionary display was made of reading, recitation, and debate, aided by the members of the famous "literary society." N. C. McNeil and N. R. Price made speeches on the affirmative, and S. B. Scott, Jr., and J. H. G. Wilson supported the negative. By a rising vote the nays had it, refuting the proposition, "Beneath the rule of men entirely great, the pen is mightier than the sword."

They talk about Triple Alliance,
And the might of the pen and the sword;
But if Spain sets the States at defiance,
We'll chuck the whole thing overboard.

An Invitation.

FOOTBALL.

Frost, 4; Oak Grove, 1.

A lively game of football was played at Frost Saturday. Frost won the toss and chose the east goal. Oak Grove forced the play for about five minutes, when Frost settled down and carried the ball back. The most terrific rushing of the whole game was now engaged in, and Upton Sharp was the man who made the lucky shot for Frost. This was the only goal scored on either side in the half.

Shortly after recommencing play the visitor's goal keeper fumbled a hardly pressed ball and C. Sharp drove it through. A. Sharp was the next man to score for Frost.

The Oak Grove men stood the contest very well, notwithstanding some of them were completely knocked out and had to call on substitutes. Now C. C. Sharp after a magnificent run through the backs scored goal no. 4. Desultory play was then indulged in, and this time the home goal fumbled an easy one, the final score standing 4-1.

OAK GROVE - Jim Sutton (goal), Ezra Wooddell, Blake King (fullback), Sandy Sutton, Harrison Sheets, Jesse Hudson (half backs), Ed Hudson, C., John Galford, Chris Dilley, Ward Hudson, Craig Ashford (forward.)

FROST - Sherman Gibson (goal), Grant Dilley, Butler Sharp (fullback), Sherman Curry, Holmes Sharp, George Sharp (half backs), C. C. Sharp (C) Upton Sharp, Aton Sharp, Warwick Shinnaberry, Charles K. Moore (forward.)

G. S. W.

Blake King went from Marlinton to play his position with Oak Grove.

The Frost team can very well lay claim to the championship of Pocahontas for 1897.

It is very necessary to the life of the game that the goal keeper sometimes fumble the ball, public opinion to the contrary notwithstanding. Otherwise few points would ever be scored.

The Pen or the Sword.

The Marlinton school, taught by Misses Lillie Friel and Rella Clark closed its sessions last Friday. At night pleasing elocutionary display was made of reading, recitation, and debate, aided by the members of the famous "literary society." N. C. McNeil and N. R. Price made speeches on the affirmative, and S. B. Scott, Jr., and J. H. G. Wilson supported the negative. By a rising vote the nays had it, refuting the proposition, "Beneath the rule of men entirely great, the pen is mightier than the sword."

They talk about Triple Alliance,
And the might of the pen and the sword;
But if Spain sets the States at defiance,
We'll chuck the whole thing overboard.

An Invitation.

BIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

John Webb, Revolutionary Veteran. An Irish, Branchless Tree.

JOHN WEBB, the subject of this biographic article, is a character about whom it may be said as was said about Melchizedek, he was without father or mother, so far as any biographical purpose can be served. His Milesian brogue and his habit of saying not foolish things, and never doing any thing very wisely, tended to corroborate what he always averred that he was of Irish nativity. He had the papers showing that he was an honorably discharged soldier of the Revolution, and as a pensioner received ninety-six dollars a year. How he ever came to Pocahontas is simply conjectural; but from the fact he chose his place of rest near Mt. Zion, he must have had some acquaintance with parties that may have been in the army when he was.

This Revolutionary veteran, though he exposed his life for independence, never owned any land and never married. Yet he wanted a home of his own, a place where he could lay his head and feel at home,—which was very commendable in him. He received permission of William Moore, son of Pennsylvania John Moore, to use without rent as much land as he might want for a cabin, garden, and "truck patch." He built himself a cozy cabin, opened up two or three acres where he produced corn, vegetables, and poultry. On this he subsisted, with the assistance of his pension and such wages as he could earn in harvesting and haying for the farmers on Knapp's Creek. This spot was on the place recently owned by Ralph Dilley, and now in the possession of William Moore, son of the late James C. Moore.

One of John Webb's favorite places to work in harvest and hay-making was at Isaac Moore's. At this period late in the teens of this century making hay was a long, tedious industry. One morning quite early as the hands gathered in the meadow, when Webb, to use his own expression, came up missing. It was surmised that he had worn off his "wire edge" on the hot sun-day before and was about to give it up for the time being, and so the hands went to work. Between nine and ten o'clock they heard his jovial brogue in the direction of the apple cellar, and upon looking in that course Webb's head was seen, "red as a beet," peering over the comb of the cellar roof. He inquired in the most impassioned manner whether any one would like to have a "dhrink ave either." It seems Webb knew where to look for the lost "wire edge," and had indulged his thirst until he was so much exhilarated as to climb the roof with nimble feet and willing hands and from his lofty perch invite others to share with his jovial comforts that he had been finding for the past hours in "dhrinkth's ave either."

This Revolutionary veteran had one of his arms very curiously tattooed between the wrist and elbow with the initials of his name and emblematic characters like anchors and arrows, whose significance was not known. This was done while he was in the army, and several other soldiers were tattooed at the same time. The chemicals used disabled them so much that a regimental order was issued prohibiting the practice. Tattooing seems to have been a fad among soldiers and sailors. If any thing should happen their personality might be identified and assistance obtained from some guild or fraternity. At least, this was the supposition. He never disclosed to any one what the characters symbolized; the initials of course could speak for themselves. It is commonly believed now that he served with the troops from Augusta County under General Mathews.

In the later years of his life John Webb was very piously inclined and was demonstrative of his religious emotions, and was long remembered as the life of many "good meetings" at old Mt. Zion, Frost, and elsewhere. He would frequently have "the jerks," which was such a feature in the revival services so common in the spasmodic jerk as he repeated the Amen, even when asking a blessing on his meals.

This phenomenon that characterized the religious services of most of the denominations a hundred years ago in Kentucky, Tennessee, and Virginia, has been attentively considered by mental experts as one of the curiosities of the emotional faculty of the human race. What surprises them in their investigations is to find some of the most pronounced examples of its influence among the Mohamedan Dervishes in the East and in the West it seems to have been the most striking feature in the Indian Ghost solemnities but a few years since. The Dervishes furiously deny the existence of the Holy Ghost, as a fiction of Christianity; and American Indians have never so much as heard that there is a Holy Ghost. Max Nordau, an eminent Jewish scientist, thinks he has found the explanation to be a disease of the nervous system, that is so highly infectious as to sweep the whole round of humanity at recurring periods.

John Webb remained in his bachelor home until he became disabled by the infirmities of advanced age. Then it was the late Martin Dilley, of revered memory, took charge of the old veteran. He built a very comfortable cabin for his use in the yard near his own commodious dwelling and cared for him until the old soldier "fought his last battle" on the borders of the unseen world. This building is standing yet. His "silent tent" is in the Dilley graveyard on the line between the Andrew Dilley and John Dilley lands. Here in this quiet spot unheeded o'er his sleeping dust the storms of life may beat in pitiless rage.

He will not always remain so, however; for just as certain as Christ lives he is going to descend with a shout, the voice of the arch angel and the trump of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. Then we who may be alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and so shall we ever be with the Lord. Wherefore let us comfort one another with these words when we think of Martin Dilley and John Webb now resting in their lowly graves so near each other. W. T. P.

LOST!

Have You Seen Him? $100,000.00 Reward, Dead or Alive.

A Lean Fat Boy With an Ingrowing Nail on His Romanesque Proboscis.

GREEN BANK, W. VA., March 31. —Missing from this place about the 6th of next month, 1893, a tall-complexioned young man about 5 feet 16 inches of age and in height about 37 years. He had on when last seen a pair of swallow tail seal skin trousers with wienerwurst stripes; double barrel frock coat lined with bean soup calico, and water tight canvass boots with patent-applied-for leather tops. He also wore a Mechanic's Delight Plug Hat and a crosseyed standup collar, and was accompanied by a dude dog with a split tongue and crenses in its pants. The young man is badly pockmarked at the back of his head and has a slight impediment in his looks. He wore a Grecian Bend on his upper lip, which he often uses as receptacle for schooners and jerked tripe.

He carried an empty carpet box in one hand and a wooden bag in the other, the latter containing several screw steamers, three railroad tunnels, and four bungholes, and a safety razor marked "Dangerous." At first it was supposed he had walked off on his ear while laboring under a hypnotic or jinnastic spell because being born before his younger brother; and he furthermore claims that his mother was present when he himself was born.

His mind is easily influenced. When asked to take something at the bar he rarely refuses, and always drinks his liquor through a straw in order to take it straight—as 'e was the sole support of several pet theories advanced by his deceased grandfather.

When last heard from he was shoveling wind off of Eleber ridge at 50 a minute to supply vacuums in the atmosphere occasioned by Swecker's auctions. If said boy fails to comply with the above contract he will be tried before Billy B. Wooddell and prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law by Attorney J. L. Hudson, and afterwards rode on a rail to Point Look Out. Address all communications to detective C. L. Burner, Point Lookout, West Virginia.

LEATHER MEDAL HUSTLER.

The beard, mustache, and eyebrows may be made a desirable

BIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

John Webb, Revolutionary Veteran. An Irish, Branchless Tree.

JOHAN WEBB, the subject of this biographic article, is a character about whom it may be said as was said about Melchizedek, he was without father or mother, so far as any biographical purpose can be served. His Milesian brogue and his habit of saying not foolish things, and never doing any thing very wisely, tended to corroborate what he always averred that he was of Irish nativity. He had the papers showing that he was an honorably discharged soldier of the Revolution, and as a pensioner received ninety-six dollars a year. How he ever came to Pocahontas is simply conjectural; but from the fact he chose his place of rest near Mt. Zion, he must have had some acquaintance with parties that may have been in the army when he was.

This Revolutionary veteran, though he exposed his life for independence, never owned any land and never married. Yet he wanted a home of his own, a place where he could lay his head and feel at home,—which was very commendable in him. He received permission of William Moore, son of Pennsylvania John Moore, to use without rent as much land as he might want for a cabin, garden, and "truck patch." He built himself a cozy cabin, opened up two or three acres where he produced corn, vegetables, and poultry. On this he subsisted, with the assistance of his pension and such wages as he could earn in harvesting and haying for the farmers on Knapp's Creek. This spot was on the place recently owned by Ralph Dilley, and now in the possession of William Moore, son of the late James C. Moore.

One of John Webb's favorite places to work in harvest and hay-making was at Isaac Moore's. At this period late in the teens of this century making hay was a long, tedious industry. One morning quite early as the hands gathered in the meadow, when Webb, to use his own expression, came up missing. It was surmised that he had worn off his "wire edge" on the hot sun-day before and was about to give it up for the time being, and so the hands went to work. Between nine and ten o'clock they heard his jovial brogue in the direction of the apple cellar, and upon looking in that course Webb's head was seen, "red as a beet," peering over the comb of the cellar roof. He inquired in the most impassioned manner whether any one would like to have a "dhrink ave either." It seems Webb knew where to look for the lost "wire edge," and had indulged his thirst until he was so much exhilarated as to climb the roof with nimble feet and willing hands and from his lofty perch invite others to share with his jovial comforts that he had been finding for the past hours in "dhrinkths ave either."

This Revolutionary veteran had one of his arms very curiously tattooed between the wrist and elbow with the initials of his name and emblematic characters like anchors and arrows, whose significance was not known. This was done while he was in the army, and several other soldiers were tattooed at the same time. The chemicals used disabled them so much that a regimental order was issued prohibiting the practice. Tattooing seems to have been a fad among soldiers and sailors. If any thing should happen their personality might be identified and assistance obtained from some guild or fraternity. At least, this was the supposition. He never disclosed to any one what the characters symbolized; the initials of course could speak for themselves. It is commonly believed now that he served with the troops from Augusta County under General Mathews.

In the later years of his life John Webb was very piously inclined and was demonstrative of his religious emotions, and was long remembered as the life of many "good meetings" at old Mt. Zion, Frost, and elsewhere. He would frequently have "the jerks," which was such a feature in the revival services so common in the spasmodic jerk as he repeated the Amen, even when asking a blessing on his meals.

This phenomenon that characterized the religious services of most of the denominations a hundred years ago in Kentucky, Tennessee, and Virginia, has been attentively considered by mental experts as one of the curiosities of the emotional faculty of the human race. What surprises them in their investigations is to find some of the most pronounced examples of its influence among the Mohamedan Dervishes in the East and in the West it seems to have been the most striking feature in the Indian Ghost solemnities but a few years since. The Dervishes furiously deny the existence of the Holy Ghost, as a fiction of Christianity; and American Indians have never so much as heard that there is a Holy Ghost. Max Nordau, an eminent Jewish scientist, thinks he has found the explanation to be a disease of the nervous system, that is so highly infectious as to sweep the whole round of humanity at recurring periods.

John Webb remained in his bachelor home until he became disabled by the infirmities of advanced age. Then it was the late Martin Dilley, of revered memory, took charge of the old veteran. He built a very comfortable cabin for his use in the yard near his own commodious dwelling and cared for him until the old soldier "fought his last battle" on the borders of the unseen world. This building is standing yet. His "silent tent" is in the Dilley graveyard on the line between the Andrew Dilley and John Dilley lands. Here in this quiet spot unheeded o'er his sleeping dust the storms of life may beat in pitiless rage.

He will not always remain so, however; for just as certain as Christ lives he is going to descend with a shout, the voice of the arch angel and the trump of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. Then we who may be alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and so shall we ever be with the Lord. Wherefore let us comfort one another with these words when we think of Martin Dilley and John Webb now resting in their lowly graves so near each other. W. T. P.

LOST!

Have You Seen Him? $100,000.00 Reward, Dead or Alive.

A Lean Fat Boy With an Ingrowing Nail on His Romanesque Proboscis.

GREEN BANK, W. VA., March 31. —Missing from this place about the 6th of next month, 1893, a tall-complexioned young man about 5 feet 16 inches of age and in height about 37 years. He had on when last seen a pair of swallow tail seal skin trousers with wienerwurst stripes; double barrel frock coat lined with bean soup calico, and water tight canvass boots with patent-applied-for leather tops. He also wore a Mechanic's Delight Plug Hat and a crosseyed standup collar, and was accompanied by a dude dog with a split tongue and crenses in its pants. The young man is badly pockmarked at the back of his head and has a slight impediment in his looks. He wore a Grecian Bend on his upper lip, which he often uses as receptacle for schooners and jerked tripe.

He carried an empty carpet box in one hand and a wooden bag in the other, the latter containing several screw steamers, three railroad tunnels, and four bungholes, and a safety razor marked "Dangerous." At first it was supposed he had walked off on his ear while laboring under a hypnotic or jinnastic spell because being born before his younger brother; and he furthermore claims that his mother was present when he himself was born.

His mind is easily influenced. When asked to take something at the bar he rarely refuses, and always drinks his liquor through a straw in order to take it straight—as 'e was the sole support of several pet theories advanced by his deceased grandfather.

When last heard from he was shoveling wind off of Eleber ridge at 50 a minute to supply vacuums in the atmosphere occasioned by Swecker's auctions. If said boy fails to comply with the above contract he will be tried before Billy B. Wooddell and prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law by Attorney J. L. Hudson, and afterwards rode on a rail to Point Look Out. Address all communications to detective C. L. Burner, Point Lookout, West Virginia.

LEATHER MEDAL HUSTLER.

The beard, mustache, and eyebrows may be made a desirable

Are you looking for a good place to live? We have a fine house for rent. Call on us at once.

Are you looking for a good place to live? We have a fine house for rent. Call on us at once.

Are you looking for a good place to live? We have a fine house for rent. Call on us at once.

Are you looking for a good place to live? We have a fine house for rent. Call on us at once.

Are you looking for a good place to live? We have a fine house for rent. Call on us at once.

Are you looking for a good place to live? We have a fine house for rent. Call on us at once.

Are you looking for a good place to live? We have a fine house for rent. Call on us at once.

Are you looking for a good place to live? We have a fine house for rent. Call on us at once.

Are you looking for a good place to live? We have a fine house for rent. Call on us at once.

Are you looking for a good place to live? We have a fine house for rent. Call on us at once.

Are you looking for a good place to live? We have a fine house for rent. Call on us at once.

Are you looking for a good place to live? We have a fine house for rent. Call on us at once.

John McLaughlin—Pioneer
of Jacksons River.

ANGSTER

soldier. Our readers have no

You choose the old doctor before the young one. Why? Because you don't want to entrust your life in inexperienced hands. True, the young doctor may be experienced. But the old doctor must be. You take no chances with Dr. Maybe, when Dr. Mustbe is in reach. Same with medicines as with medicine makers — the long-tried remedy has your confidence. You prefer experience to experiment — when you are concerned. The new remedy may be good — but let somebody else prove it. The old remedy must be good — judged on its record of cures. Just one more reason for choosing AYER'S Sarsaparilla in preference to any other. It has been the standard household sarsaparilla for half a century. Its record inspires confidence — 50 years of cures. If others may be good, Ayer's Sarsaparilla must be. You take no chances when you take AYER'S Sarsaparilla.

now has the highest enrollment ever made in its history.

Further information, write to: U.S. Census Bureau, Publication 800 and 800-200, Chicago, Illinois.

The People's Bible History

[illegible]

John McLaughlin—Pioneer
of Jacksons River.

ANGSTER

teraville. He was a Confederate soldier. Our readers have no

You choose the old doctor before the young one. Why? Because you don't want to entrust your life in inexperienced hands. True, the young doctor may be experienced. But the old doctor must be. You take no chances with Dr. Maybe, when Dr. Mustbe is in reach. Same with medicines as with medicine makers — the long-tried remedy has your confidence. You prefer experience to experiment — when you are concerned. The new remedy may be good — but let somebody else prove it. The old remedy must be good — judged on its record of cures. Just one more reason for choosing AYER'S Sarsaparilla in preference to any other. It has been the standard household sarsaparilla for half a century. Its record inspires confidence — 50 years of cures. If others may be good, Ayer's Sarsaparilla must be. You take no chances when you take AYER'S Sarsaparilla.

now has the highest enrollment ever made in its history.

[illegible]

MAIL CARRIER DROWNED.

Unacquainted With the Dangerous Suck of the Ford Below Mt. Grove, He ventured in and His Feeble Mail-Horse Was Swept Over the Falls Below the Ford.

A tragic story of the drowning of a mail-boy comes from Mt. Grove. Frank Coyner, a youth of twenty, came from Parkersburg to carry the mail on the route between Mt. Grove and Warm Springs, a distance of thirteen miles. He made daily trips leaving Mt. Grove in the morning and returning there in the evening. He crossed two swift, dangerous streams in going and returning, Back Creek and Jackson's River. Back Creek could well be dignified by the name of river as it is nearly as large as Jackson's River.

There had been a heavy rain Monday night, and on Tuesday, March 29th, he left his boarding place with every prospect of high waters to cross. He placed a letter he had written home behind the clock, remarking that if he did not get back the people could write to his father that he had found a watery grave. This was not an unnatural remark under the circumstances.

He made the trip and had got back to the ford on Back Creek, two miles below Mt. Grove, where he was drowned. There were no witnesses of the accident.

Tuesday evening John Landes, who lives near the ford, went there for the express purpose of warning the mail boy that the creek was dangerous, knowing that he was a stranger in the country. He got there a few minutes too late. When he arrived at the ford he saw below it some distance a horse on an island near the shore with its foot hung in the bridle. He waded in and brought it out. He recognized the horse and took it to Mt. Grove, where it was surmised in all probability the mail carrier was drowned. A party went there immediately but no trace of the body could be discovered. Mike O'Farrel who was riding a powerful horse attempted to cross but was obliged to return.

The ford is at the lower end of an eddy, and immediately below the water dashes down a steep declivity forming frightful rapids. When the stream is high the water appears smooth above, but in reality it has a terrible suck. The mail-boy rode a weak horse which was tired from its long journey.

The fate of the boy was known when the party reached John Darnell's house situated about a mile below the ford. His daughter was watching the rising waters and saw the mail-bag float by. She ran to the house with the news and returned in time to see the body of the unfortunate boy. First a hand was thrust high above the surface of the water, and then the knee appeared.

A large party searched the creek for the body and found it Friday. First the overcoat, then a boot, and then a vest were found. The mail-bag was lodged in a drift-heap two miles below the ford. The mail was damaged but the letters were readable. A postal card received by the writer which had been submerged shows little sign of damage. It was nothing like our Lewisburg mail in ordinary wet weather. The first two days the searchers did not go down the stream far enough, but on Friday at a point nearly three miles below the ford they found the body on the rocks on the edge of the stream.

In all probability the boy's foot hung in the stirrup and this would account for the body floating at a considerable distance behind the mail-bag. Also for the fact that the overcoat, coat, vest and boot were stripped off. The stream runs with almost incredible swiftness from the ford to the place the body was found. It is in the gap where Back Creek breaks through the mountain to flow into Jackson's River.

Railroad Matters.

Will was in The ized b Col Creek Hen sudden able to Geo workin camps Dr is spe rents, Con fallen to a st Any what hearse Killer and h inform The Henry Squin bearin the J defende resent Ruck Me R. Cu Clinti N. C. Smith Marli Herol Knap of Bu at ou Our Georg much of hi He h month front nearly He is this s the re gress Mr C borro not b may Capt of sa ory h Ev

One en thi took Talk ers, b make will f of T.

Ve cle el his u ten f lence did n conv of th Poca few hand give throl

No peso shall full, Hou Thee the t I car one in th

Vo

MAIL CARRIER DROWNED.

Unacquainted With the Dangerous Suck of the Ford Below Mt. Grove, He ventured in and His Feeble Mail-Horse Was Swept Over the Falls Below the Ford.

A tragic story of the drowning of a mail-boy comes from Mt. Grove. Frank Coyner, a youth of twenty, came from Parkersburg to carry the mail on the route between Mt. Grove and Warm Springs, a distance of thirteen miles. He made daily trips leaving Mt. Grove in the morning and returning there in the evening. He crossed two swift, dangerous streams in going and returning, Back Creek and Jackson's River. Back Creek could well be dignified by the name of river as it is nearly as large as Jackson's River.

There had been a heavy rain Monday night, and on Tuesday, March 29th, he left his boarding place with every prospect of high waters to cross. He placed a letter he had written home behind the clock, remarking that if he did not get back the people could write to his father that he had found a watery grave. This was not an unnatural remark under the circumstances.

He made the trip and had got back to the ford on Back Creek, two miles below Mt. Grove, where he was drowned. There were no witnesses of the accident.

Tuesday evening John Landes, who lives near the ford, went there for the express purpose of warning the mail boy that the creek was dangerous, knowing that he was a stranger in the country. He got there a few minutes too late. When he arrived at the ford he saw below it some distance a horse on an island near the shore with its foot hung in the bridle. He waded in and brought it out. He recognized the horse and took it to Mt. Grove, where it was surmised in all probability the mail carrier was drowned. A party went there immediately but no trace of the body could be discovered. Mike O'Farrel who was riding a powerful horse attempted to cross but was obliged to return.

The ford is at the lower end of an eddy, and immediately below the water dashes down a steep declivity forming frightful rapids. When the stream is high the water appears smooth above, but in reality it has a terrible suck. The mail-boy rode a weak horse which was tired from its long journey.

The fate of the boy was known when the party reached John Darnell's house situated about a mile below the ford. His daughter was watching the rising waters and saw the mail-bag float by. She ran to the house with the news and returned in time to see the body of the unfortunate boy. First a hand was thrust high above the surface of the water, and then the knee appeared.

A large party searched the creek for the body and found it Friday. First the overcoat, then a boot, and then a vest were found. The mail-bag was lodged in a drift-heap two miles below the ford. The mail was damaged but the letters were readable. A postal card received by the writer which had been submerged shows little sign of damage. It was nothing like our Lewisburg mail in ordinary wet weather. The first two days the searchers did not go down the stream far enough, but on Friday at a point nearly three miles below the ford they found the body on the rocks on the edge of the stream.

In all probability the boy's foot hung in the stirrup and this would account for the body floating at a considerable distance behind the mail-bag. Also for the fact that the overcoat, coat, vest and boot were stripped off. The stream runs with almost incredible swiftness from the ford to the place the body was found. It is in the gap where Back Creek breaks through the mountain to flow into Jackson's River.

Railroad Matters.

Will was in The ized b Col Creek Hen sudden able to Geo workin camps Dr is spe rents, Con fallen to a st Any what hearse Killer and h inform The Henry Squin bearin the J defende resent Ruck Me R. Cu Clinti N. C. Smith Marli Herol Knap of Bu at our Our Georg much of hi He h month front nearly He is this s the re gress Mr C borro not b may Capt of sa ory h Ev

One en thi took Talk ers, b make will f of T.

Ve cle el his u ten f lence did n conv of th Poca few hand give throl

No peson shall full, Hou Thee the t I car one in th

Vo

COURT INCIDENTS.

No one has been able to remember a term of the court when as many as four convicts were sent to the penitentiary from this county before. Three confessed and Wilfong was tried.

There were thirty-three indictments returned by the grand-jury. Four of these were for felony. The others were for minor offenses, directly or indirectly connected with liquor.

The famous divorce case of Cochran vs Cochran was called up on the question of suit money to be provided the defendant, Mrs Cochran. An order was entered requiring the plaintiff to pay to the defendant the sum of $75. on the penalty of having his suit dismissed.

Charles Beverage, the witness of last court, who refused to divulge the name of the man of whom he bought moonshine whiskey, and who was let out on his own recognizance to come back and testify, again refused in his quixotic manner to give evidence, and the Judge sent him to jail for an indefinite length of time, and adjourned court without releasing him or fixing his sentence.

The school money case heard under the caption of B. M. Yeager vs J. H. Buzzard et als has resolved itself into a right bitter fight between the securities of J. C. Arbogast for the term of '91 and '92, and his last term. The question seemed to hinge on the question of the solvency of J. C. Arbogast July 1, 1893, when the fiscal year of his last term began. The case was recommitted to the commissioners to settle several important items of account.

A large amount of chancery orders were entered. One case which has been pending for five years or so was finally disposed of. It was the case of O. S. Wilson & Bro. vs C. A. Yeager et als, concerning the selling of the hotel property at Marlinton, belonging to Mrs C. A. Yeager, for debts contracted by her husband while engaged in the logging business in Tucker County. The court decided that the hotel was the separate property of Mrs Yeager, and not responsible for her husband's debts.

Rev John H. Ratliff, accused of stealing a horse, came into court with his head held high in the air, and thanked the Judge most sincerely for the two years that were given him. Elmer Jackson and Ervine Houdyschell both went up for two and one years. Wilfong elected to be tried and was defended by McNeil and Scott. His defense was that he had bought the horse, and, by a strange co-incidence, Ervine Houdyschell a fellow prisoner, had happened along the road at that time and saw the whole occurrence. Rev John H. Ratliff was called, and he testified that he had heard them concocting the story in the jail. The jury seemed to have no difficulty in finding him guilty, and a motion to set aside the verdict was denied, and he was sentenced a term of three years.

HUNT

G. W. Ging
L. W. Hero
on a business

Dr J. B. an are in Cincin
business.

Rev M. T. 7
the Presbyter
7-30 P. M.

Mrs William
Mountain, wh
some time, is

N. J. Brown in this night
last week.

C. B. Sweet Laughlin, of town Sunday.

Messrs R. S.
J. W. Stephen
M. McAllister
were in town

We are call the death of c ued citizens,
J. J. Beard, v
at 11 o'clock.

Col David
County, acco Herold, was last week on linton Court.

Messrs Pyl
bacco firm;
representing Ward, repres
ford, Baltimo Huntersville

Miss Lucy
Mann, of Ma
ard, of Dunl
liam Van I Creek attend
here Sunday

George Du
mashed his f
has just rece
United State
for $75. He of the society Lockridge is
tary of the s
This compan
paying its m occasioned b

Mrs Mattie
Loury, died buried in the ry Sunday
hundred peo
eral. The p
Patterson, E
Barlow, Elit
mett, and Ch

DR

Mrs E. J.
list.

J. T. St younger—It Weymont
up the Bran

Willie Mc
the tobacco

Everett,
coon is plen

Junior say
at the mout
is farther up

Should be

Notice of copyright requires
not, and may be an error
their address will be entirely taken from the 1906. If you pay to buy cheap apartments,
rooms, room pads and dis
hold a job or reading matter
distinctly, it is a rare sign.

COURT INCIDENTS.

No one has been able to remember a term of the court when as many as four convicts were sent to the penitentiary from this county before. Three confessed and Wilfong was tried.

There were thirty-three indictments returned by the grand-jury. Four of these were for felony. The others were for minor offenses, directly or indirectly connected with liquor.

The famous divorce case of Cochran vs Cochran was called up on the question of suit money to be provided the defendant, Mrs Cochran. An order was entered requiring the plaintiff to pay to the defendant the sum of $75. on the penalty of having his suit dismissed.

Charles Beverage, the witness of last court, who refused to divulge the name of the man of whom he bought moonshine whiskey, and who was let out on his own recognizance to come back and testify, again refused in his quixotic manner to give evidence, and the Judge sent him to jail for an indefinite length of time, and adjourned court without releasing him or fixing his sentence.

The school money case heard under the caption of B. M. Yeager vs J. H. Buzzard et als has resolved itself into a right bitter fight between the securities of J. C. Arbogast for the term of '91 and '92, and his last term. The question seemed to hinge on the question of the solvency of J. C. Arbogast July 1, 1893, when the fiscal year of his last term began. The case was recommitted to the commissioners to settle several important items of account.

A large amount of chancery orders were entered. One case which has been pending for five years or so was finally disposed of. It was the case of O. S. Wilson & Bro. vs C. A. Yeager et als, concerning the selling of the hotel property at Marlinton, belonging to Mrs C. A. Yeager, for debts contracted by her husband while engaged in the logging business in Tucker County. The court decided that the hotel was the separate property of Mrs Yeager, and not responsible for her husband's debts.

Rev John H. Ratliff, accused of stealing a horse, came into court with his head held high in the air, and thanked the Judge most sincerely for the two years that were given him. Elmer Jackson and Ervine Houdyschell both went up for two and one years. Wilfong elected to be tried and was defended by McNeil and Scott. His defense was that he had bought the horse, and, by a strange co-incidence, Ervine Houdyschell a fellow prisoner, had happened along the road at that time and saw the whole occurrence. Rev John H. Ratliff was called, and he testified that he had heard them concocting the story in the jail. The jury seemed to have no difficulty in finding him guilty, and a motion to set aside the verdict was denied, and he was sentenced a term of three years.

HUNT

G. W. Ging
L. W. Hero
on a business

Dr J. B. an
are in Cincin
business.

Rev M. T. 7
the Presbyter
7-30 P. M.

Mrs William
Mountain, wh
some time, is

N. J. Brown
in this night
last week.

C. B. Sweet Laughlin, of town Sunday.

Messrs R. S.
J. W. Stephen
M. McAllister
were in town

We are call
the death of c
ued citizens,
J. J. Beard, v
at 11 o'clock.

Col David
County, acco Herold, was last week on linton Court.

Messrs Pyl
bacco firm;
representing Ward, repres
ford, Baltimo Huntersville

Miss Lucy
Mann, of Ma
ard, of Dunl
liam Van I Creek attend
here Sunday

George Du
mashed his f
has just rece
United State
for $75. He
of the society Lockridge is
tary of the s
This compan
paying its m
occasioned b

Mrs Mattie
Loury, died
buried in the ry Sunday
hundred peo
eral. The p
Patterson, E
Barlow, Elit
mett, and Ch

DR

Mrs E. J.
list.

J. T. St younger—It Weymont
up the Bran

Willie Mc
the tobacco

Everett,
coon is plen

Junior say
at the mout
is farther up

Should be

Notice of copyright requires
not, and may be an error
their address will be entirely
taken from the 1906. If you pay to buy cheap apartments,
rooms, room pads and dis
hold a job or reading matter
distinctly, it is a rare sign.

BIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

Second Part—McLaughlin Family Biographies.

THE second group of the McLaughlin relationship trace their ancestry to two brothers and two sisters of that name who settled in Pocahontas early in the century. How near the relationship is, the writer has not the requisite information. William and John McLaughlin and their sisters Jennie and Nancy are the persons remembered as the ancestry of the second group.

William McLaughlin married Nancy Wylie, head of Jacksons River, Bath, and settled on Thomas Creek, near Dunmore. His lands are now held by his sons Hugh and Robert. Mrs McLaughlin died a few years since at a very advanced age, of a cancerous affection. She is remembered as a faithful and devoted nurse of her sick neighbors, and her services were held in high appreciation in times when there were no physicians convenient. She and her neighbor Elizabeth McCutcheon were sisters of charity in the best sense of the word. Sheep saffron was their main dependence in cases of measles. They were fully posted in the virtues of herb remedies.

In reference to William McLaughlin's family, we have the following details: His daughter Jane was married to John Hiner—second wife and lives on Jacksons River.

Rachel became Mrs Jacob Beverage and lives on the Old Field Fork of Elk.

Elizabeth married James Townsend and lived on Back Alleghany near Driftwood.

Hugh McLaughlin married Nancy Ratcliffe and lives on a section of the Thomas Creek homestead. Their children are Mary Alice Davis, a well-known teacher of public schools; Lena Arnold Lee, also a teacher and now Mrs William Deputy; William Andrew Gatewood, Jacob Benick Cassell, Brown Galford, Muspe Hamilton, John Letcher, Minnie Belle (lately deceased), Anna Charle, and Lola.

Robert McLaughlin was married twice and lives on a section of the old homestead. His first marriage was with Minta Rusmisell. Her children were Nebraska, Melissa, Lovie, Christopher, Catherine, Bertha, Lawrence, Cameron, and Russell. The second marriage was with Lydia Rusmisell. Her children are Elmer, Joseph, and Annie. These ladies were cousins and were from near Moscow, Augusta County, Virginia.

Nancy, McLaughlin, one of the ancestral sisters, became the wife of Jacob Cassell, senior, and lived on the Greenbrier at the Cassell Ford, four miles west of Green Bank. Full particulars of Mrs Cassell's family were given in the Cassell sketches.

Jennie McLaughlin, the other ancestral sister, was married to John Galford and lived near Glade Hill on property now owned by Frank Patterson, Esq. John, Allan, Thomas, and James Galford were her four sons. Her daughter Nancy Galford became Mrs John Kilpatrick and lived in Highland. Naomi Galford died in early youth. Margaret Galford went to Barbour County, W. Virginia, and married there.

John McLaughlin, one of the ancestral brothers, married Clarissa Gregory and settled on the Greenbrier at the place recently owned by the late Allan Galford, Esq., mouth of Deer Creek. Their children were John, James, Elizabeth, and Nancy. Elizabeth was married to Harvey Ratcliffe and went to Lewis County. Nancy became Mrs Henry Higgins, and lived near Clover Lick. John married Sidney Carpenter and settled on the homestead. James married Miss Nottingham and migrated to the West.

Thus far we have been able to trace something of the history of a relationship that has furnished our country with some faithful school-teachers, patriotic citizens, and good soldiers in the Confederate cause. Hugh McLaughlin was wounded during the war, and suffers yet from the effects. Jacob McLaughlin died in the war. Our readers have seen one or more of his letters.

He is to be remembered, as one of the noblest young men that was sacrificed in the cruel war. His bravery and good moral character reflected great honor upon his country and kindred. He made the best use of his limited opportunities for improvement in heart and mind, and succeeded so well that wherever he went and became acquainted people would make the remark: They say that Pocahontas is in the backwoods, but if there are many young men raised up in it like young Jake McLaughlin it will be in the front woods the first thing people will know.

Nothing is more cheering and inspiring than to see young men overcoming difficulties, rising superior to their surroundings, deaf to taunts and ridicule, not afraid to do right but perfect cowards as to doing wrong. In the presence of God Jacob McLaughlin was as humble as a little child, but as a man among men no one held himself higher, and so he had their confidence and respect. W. T. P.

Trustee's Sale.

PURSUANT to a deed of trust made on the 12th day of July, 1897, by John T. McGraw to the undersigned trustee, and recorded in the Clerk's office of the county court of Pocahontas County, in Deed Book No. 27, page 432, to secure the payment of two certain notes each for $233.33 negotiable and payable at the People's National Bank, of Charlottesville, Virginia, with 6 per cent interest from July 12, 1897, until paid to Samuel B. Woods, and costs of executing the said deed, and default having been made in the payment of the first of said notes, and being required by the said beneficiary, Samuel Woods, the undersigned trustee will on the

7TH DAY OF MAY, 1898,

between the hours of ten o'clock A. M. and four o'clock P. M., at the front door of the court house of Pocahontas County, West Virginia, in the town of Marlinton, proceed to sell at public auction to the highest bidder the land conveyed in said deed of trust, comprising a tract of 1000 acres of land situated in said Pocahontas County, lying on the east side of the West Fork of Greenbrier River, and bounded as follows:

Beginning at two maples, cherry, beech, and yew pine, on the east bank of the Greenbrier River, and with the old line S 78° E 812 poles to two pines and a beech in a hollow on the west side of the divide between the west branch and Little River, 5½ poles to the north of a blazed line, S 24 55 M W 204 to a beech, witnessed by two yew pines and two beeches on a north hillside corner to the other 1000 acres of the Slaughter land, sold Craig & Upton, the same leaving the old line N 78° W 852 poles, at 133 poles crosses the top of the divide at 210 poles passes two marked sugar-trees by a small spring or drain. 235 poles crosses a north eastern branch of Paul's Lick Run, at 360 poles passes a large marked cherry on top of a spur of Paul's Lick Ridge, at 433 crosses the northwestern fork of Paul's Lick Run, at 563 poles passes a marked birch on top of a spur of Paul's Lick Ridge, at 663 poles crosses Paul's Lick Run at six poles above the Mud Lick, at 745 poles crosses the top of the north spur of Hunter's Camp Ridge, to two maples witnessed by two birches on the east bank of the west fork of the river, thence up the river with its meanderings to the beginning. It being that tract of land conveyed to John T. McGraw by Samuel B. Woods and wife by deed bearing date on the 12th day of July, 1897, and recorded in the clerk's office of the county court of Pocahontas County West Virginia, in Deed Book No. 27, page 445.

Terms of Sale: Cash.
Given under my hand this 12th day of March, 1898.

JAMES MORGAN, Trustee.

Don't Tobacco Spit and Smoke Your Life Away.
To quit tobacco easily and forever, be magnetic, full of life, nerve and vigor, take No. 10. But the wonder-worker, that makes weak men strong. All druggists, 50c or $1. Cures guaranteed. Booklet and sample free. Address: Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago or New York.

MILLER RODE ONE 2093 MILES IN 132 HOURS

The Eldredge
$50.00

The Belvidere
$40.00

Superior to all others irrespective of price. Catalogue tells you why. Write for one.

NATIONAL SEWING MACHINE CO., 330 BROADWAY, New York. Factory: BELVIDERE, ILL.

Vegeta
stimulat ing the S
IN AN Promote
ness and Opium, N
NOT N Aperfec
tion, So Worms, ness an Fac S N 35 D EXAC
Th
to in Pu me be ab ou ar de
Th
A Cal BIN AN
The E
of AD
S FE
S
First-
H SPEC
A lim
All are inv eo to J.
DO
Are you suffering from indigestion
loss of appetite or weakness of the stomach?
If so, you need a reliable remedy.
Doan's Kidney Pills are
the only reliable remedy
for all these affections.
They cure
the kidneys, regulate
the bowels,
and strengthen
the whole system.
Doan's Kidney Pills
are sold everywhere.
Beware
of cheap imitations.
The
name Doan's
is on
the wrapper.
Doan's Kidney Pills
are
the only reliable remedy
for all these affections.
They
cure
the kidneys, regulate
the bowels,
and strengthen
the whole system.
Doan's Kidney Pills
are sold everywhere.
Beware
of cheap imitations.
The
name Doan's
is on
the wrapper.

BIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

Second Part—McLaughlin Family Biographies.

THE second group of the McLaughlin relationship trace their ancestry to two brothers and two sisters of that name who settled in Pocahontas early in the century. How near the relationship is, the writer has not the requisite information. William and John McLaughlin and their sisters Jennie and Nancy are the persons remembered as the ancestry of the second group.

William McLaughlin married Nancy Wylie, head of Jacksons River, Bath, and settled on Thomas Creek, near Dunmore. His lands are now held by his sons Hugh and Robert. Mrs McLaughlin died a few years since at a very advanced age, of a cancerous affection. She is remembered as a faithful and devoted nurse of her sick neighbors, and her services were held in high appreciation in times when there were no physicians convenient. She and her neighbor Elizabeth McCutcheon were sisters of charity in the best sense of the word. Sheep saffron was their main dependence in cases of measles. They were fully posted in the virtues of herb remedies.

In reference to William McLaughlin's family, we have the following details: His daughter Jane was married to John Hiner—second wife and lives on Jacksons River.

Rachel became Mrs Jacob Beverage and lives on the Old Field Fork of Elk.

Elizabeth married James Townsend and lived on Back Alleghany near Driftwood.

Hugh McLaughlin married Nancy Ratcliffe and lives on a section of the Thomas Creek homestead. Their children are Mary Alice Davis, a well-known teacher of public schools; Lena Arnold Lee, also a teacher and now Mrs William Deputy; William Andrew Gatewood, Jacob Benick Cassell, Brown Galford, Muspe Hamilton, John Letcher, Minnie Belle (lately deceased), Anna Charle, and Lola.

Robert McLaughlin was married twice and lives on a section of the old homestead. His first marriage was with Minta Rusmisell. Her children were Nebraska, Melissa, Lovie, Christopher, Catherine, Bertha, Lawrence, Cameron, and Russell. The second marriage was with Lydia Rusmisell. Her children are Elmer, Joseph, and Annie. These ladies were cousins and were from near Moscow, Augusta County, Virginia.

Nancy, McLaughlin, one of the ancestral sisters, became the wife of Jacob Cassell, senior, and lived on the Greenbrier at the Cassell Ford, four miles west of Green Bank. Full particulars of Mrs Cassell's family were given in the Cassell sketches.

Jennie McLaughlin, the other ancestral sister, was married to John Galford and lived near Glade Hill on property now owned by Frank Patterson, Esq. John, Allan, Thomas, and James Galford were her four sons. Her daughter Nancy Galford became Mrs John Kilpatrick and lived in Highland. Naomi Galford died in early youth. Margaret Galford went to Barbour County, W. Virginia, and married there.

John McLaughlin, one of the ancestral brothers, married Clarissa Gregory and settled on the Greenbrier at the place recently owned by the late Allan Galford, Esq., mouth of Deer Creek. Their children were John, James, Elizabeth, and Nancy. Elizabeth was married to Harvey Ratcliffe and went to Lewis County. Nancy became Mrs Henry Higgins, and lived near Clover Lick. John married Sidney Carpenter and settled on the homestead. James married Miss Nottingham and migrated to the West.

Thus far we have been able to trace something of the history of a relationship that has furnished our country with some faithful school-teachers, patriotic citizens, and good soldiers in the Confederate cause. Hugh McLaughlin was wounded during the war, and suffers yet from the effects. Jacob McLaughlin died in the war. Our readers have seen one or more of his letters.

He is to be remembered, as one of the noblest young men that was sacrificed in the cruel war. His bravery and good moral character reflected great honor upon his country and kindred. He made the best use of his limited opportunities for improvement in heart and mind, and succeeded so well that wherever he went and became acquainted people would make the remark: They say that Pocahontas is in the backwoods, but if there are many young men raised up in it like young Jake McLaughlin it will be in the front woods the first thing people will know.

Nothing is more cheering and inspiring than to see young men overcoming difficulties, rising superior to their surroundings, deaf to taunts and ridicule, not afraid to do right but perfect cowards as to doing wrong. In the presence of God Jacob McLaughlin was as humble as a little child, but as a man among men no one held himself higher, and so he had their confidence and respect. W. T. P.

Trustee's Sale.

PURSUANT to a deed of trust made on the 12th day of July, 1897, by John T. McGraw to the undersigned trustee, and recorded in the Clerk's office of the county court of Pocahontas County, in Deed Book No. 27, page 432, to secure the payment of two certain notes each for $233.33 negotiable and payable at the People's National Bank, of Charlottesville, Virginia, with 6 per cent interest from July 12, 1897, until paid to Samuel B. Woods, and costs of executing the said deed, and default having been made in the payment of the first of said notes, and being required by the said beneficiary, Samuel Woods, the undersigned trustee will on the

7TH DAY OF MAY, 1898,

between the hours of ten o'clock A. M. and four o'clock P. M., at the front door of the court house of Pocahontas County, West Virginia, in the town of Marlinton, proceed to sell at public auction to the highest bidder the land conveyed in said deed of trust, comprising a tract of 1000 acres of land situated in said Pocahontas County, lying on the east side of the West Fork of Greenbrier River, and bounded as follows:

Beginning at two maples, cherry, beech, and yew pine, on the east bank of the Greenbrier River, and with the old line S 78° E 812 poles to two pines and a beech in a hollow on the west side of the divide between the west branch and Little River, 5½ poles to the north of a blazed line, S 24 55 M W 204 to a beech, witnessed by two yew pines and two beeches on a north hillside corner to the other 1000 acres of the Slaughter land, sold Craig & Upton, the same leaving the old line N 78° W 852 poles, at 133 poles crosses the top of the divide at 210 poles passes two marked sugar-trees by a small spring or drain. 235 poles crosses a north eastern branch of Paul's Lick Run, at 360 poles passes a large marked cherry on top of a spur of Paul's Lick Ridge, at 433 crosses the northwestern fork of Paul's Lick Run, at 563 poles passes a marked birch on top of a spur of Paul's Lick Ridge, at 663 poles crosses Paul's Lick Run at six poles above the Mud Lick, at 745 poles crosses the top of the north spur of Hunter's Camp Ridge, to two maples witnessed by two birches on the east bank of the west fork of the river, thence up the river with its meanderings to the beginning. It being that tract of land conveyed to John T. McGraw by Samuel B. Woods and wife by deed bearing date on the 12th day of July, 1897, and recorded in the clerk's office of the county court of Pocahontas County West Virginia, in Deed Book No. 27, page 445.

Terms of Sale: Cash Given under my hand this 12th day of March, 1898.

JAMES MORGAN, Trustee.

Don't Tobacco Spit and Smoke Your Life Away. To quit tobacco easily and forever, be magnetic, full of life, nerve and vigor, take No. 10. Buy the wonder-worker, that makes weak men strong. All druggists, 50c or $1. Cure guaranteed. Booklet and sample free. Address: Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago or New York.

MILLER RODE ONE 2093 MILES IN 132 HOURS

The Eldredge $50.00

The Belvidere $40.00

Superior to all others irrespective of price. Catalogue tells you why. Write for one.

NATIONAL SEWING MACHINE CO., 330 BROADWAY, New York. Factory: BELVIDERE, ILL.

Vegeta
stimulating the S IN Promote
ness and Opium, N
NOT N Aperfection,
So Worms,
ness an Fac S N 35 D EXAC
The
to in Pu me
be ab
ou
ar
de
Th
A Cal BIN AN
The E
of
AD
S FE
S
First-H SPEC
A lim
All
are inv eo to J.
DO
Are you severe not get using a remedy let in a N.Y.

ey.	PERSONAL MENTION.
at the	Messrs Rucker and Scott atten-	We
have	ded Court at Lewisburg.	and n
uth of	Miss Anette Ligon was in town	Joh
inton	Monday.	go to
lately	John A. Warwick returned Mon-	a girl
nd of	day from a trip to Bath County.	M.
with	Bernard Slavin, of Highland,	corn.
n the	was in town several days lately.	get to
ngin-	Squire Yeager went down to Ac-	Mr
al as-	ademy last Sunday.	away.
r call-	Mrs Paul Golden has returned	gets
men	from a visit in Baltimore.	roasti
third	R. E. Overholt will move to	Ev
w was	Frankford shortly.	will o
Creek	Rev W. H. Hart, of Ritchie	the fi
orking	County, was in Pocahontas last	crack
w the	week, seeing after his farm.	Br
move	Howard Bird has sold his well	kers.
ack to	boring machine to Sydenstricker	Mi
ought	& Clark, of Academy.	to Te
moved	Miss Mabel Ligon has returned	J.
week.	from the Lewisburg Female Insti-	work
is will	tute to be with her mother, who	Th
cross-	still continues most seriously ill.	Neil
es be-	J. Emory Duffield, son of the	road
nk for	late J. R. Duffield near Edray, is	W.
some	now an enterprising merchant at	oats
brier.	Gypsum, Kansas.	Spain
at fea-	Rev Asa McNeil and family were	Mi
e dis-	delayed several days at Enoch Mc-	on th
th, of	Neil's, on Williams River, by deep	bette
chief	snow and high waters.	Ch
miles	Lawrence M'Collam, from Green-	on th
& O.	brier, son of James McCollam,	betsy
ing of	Esq., has been spending a few days	S.
e said	at the old home. He reports the	Cou
river	decease of Taylor Walton, whose	ing c
eventy	son Hasel is remembered in Mar-	M
driven	linton.	for s
s and	Luther A. Kieffer, son of Prof.	neck
as an-	Aldine Keiffer of The Musical Mil-	No
from	lion, Dayton, Virginia, died a few	gone
imate	days since. He was a youth of	at M
reat as	much promise and our sincere	G
e gave	sympathies are hereby extended to	J. D
f Swa-	his father, whose name is familiar	Bev
xactly,	to most of our readers as a poet	Pr
Creek 7	and music composer.	Bev
les and	P. D. Yeager and C. S. Erswell	ing
Stamp-	while in Denver ordered a large	Wai
teasur-	and complete line of Victor tennis	ing
ay that	goods. Mr Yeager was employed	M
old out	by the C. S. Erswell Cycle Co. to	visi
tion to	select the goods which in his judg-	som
fidence	ment will become the popular fan-	Wel
he rail-	cy of the expert players. Tennis	F. I
enbrier	promises to become the attractive	her
hontas	amusement of the season.—Chey-	in t
is ever	enne (Wyoming) Tribune.	fron
valuable	Ernst N. Moore, Esq., and Sam-	effo
np.	uel Sheets, of Dunmore, passed	dow
groves	through Marlinton Tuesday on	und
o miles	their return from Moundsville as	gett
ned by	guards in charge of the prisoners.
consists	They returned by way of Harpers
s, many	Ferry, Basic City, and Ronceverte,
ir kind.	and spent last Sunday at Piedmont
e black	the guests of Forest Moore, Esq.
uted to	Preacher Ratliff behaved himself
of any.	very nicely, and will no doubt be at came	quite an acquisition to prison soon were	ciety.
two or	John B. Kinnison, a venerable
d so two	and much respected citizen, has
ing the	lived in the vicinity of Hillsboro
five or	all his life, now verging 80 years.
atput is	He is a grandson of Charles Kinnds and	nison, one of the earliest settlers of members	The Levels, and a Revolutionary ible size	veteran. Mr J. B. Kinnison was a gues. A	skillful blacksmith, and by indusiple that	try and economy has acquired a
n's resi-	very easy competency and is sur-asured	rounded by the comforts of a ross the	charming home. His politics are ears ago	for gold and protection. He has lown on	been a devout a faithful reader of her ba-	the Bible for sixty or more years.
the sun-	The Old Testament he has perus-he sugar	ed fourteen times and the New
ely rap-	Testament thirty - four times.
tapped	Every day in his humble way he prays God not to cast him off in the time of old age, nor forsake him when his strength fails.

Lieut. John Jordan Beard.

It becomes our mournful duty to record the death of a widely-known and much esteemed citizen, John Jordan Beard, Huntersville, West Virginia. This event occurred rather unexpectedly. Monday, 11 a. m., April 11th, 1898.

Lieut. Beard was the only son of the late Joseph Beard, Esq., and Mrs. Mattie Beard, near Hillsboro. He was born in Greenbrier County, April 21st, 1835, and was married to Minerva, daughter of James Edmiston, Esq., September 1866. At the time of his death he was within ten days of being 63 years of age. By this event his attached family is bereaved of a kind tender husband and a very affectionate and indulgent father. The community at large honors his memory as that of a good man whose influence has been for intelligence and good morals.

In the war between the States he served in the Bath Squadron, and made a record as a gallant and distinguished soldier. Late in the war he received a frightful wound that came near ending his life at the time. He survived to the surprise of every person familiar with its nature. For more than thirty years this wound has been a great personal affliction, and it is believed hastened the termination of his useful life. He has been a resident of Huntersville about 21 years. During this time he served the county two terms as clerk of both courts.

Early in life he professed piety, and maintained a consistent character as such in the pale of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was loyal and faithful to his communion and greatly attached to her doctrines and usages.

He is survived by his wife and two sons, Harry and Fred. Beard.

Being as Lieut. Beard was, a person of ardent social and domestic impulses, as a matter of course it was painful for him to think of the sundering of sweet home ties, yet in his sincere way he assured his loved ones that they should not grieve too much about him, for all was and would be well with him.

A month or so since we had a pleasant interchange of views concerning the 23d Psalm. In this Psalm it appears that nothing but the shadow would touch those following the Lord, our Shepherd when it comes to passing through the Valley. Having been a brave soldier and familiar with battle scenes in the presence of the enemy, that at such a time sitting down at a prepared feast would be one of the last things a leader in battle would be likely to think of doing, Lieut. Beard was prepared to appreciate words in the same Psalm where it is said: "Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies, Thou anointest my head with oil, my cup runneth over."

It would have been a very unfeeling heart not to have been thrilled at noticing how the countenance of this veteran Christian soldier hopefully beamed as he caught the idea, then how secure those must be who follow Christ, the good Shepherd or Leader, who gave his life for his flock, and can spread a table for them in the presence of the world, the flesh, and Satan, and permit goodness and mercy to follow his people all the days of their lives. And besides all this have hopes of dwelling in his house forever.

In compliance with his wishes, the funeral obsequies were of the simplest character. Every thing like ostentation was carefully avoided. Some of us felt that this really was one of the few occasions where a marked demonstration would have been in good form. It seems, however, he desired it otherwise. Instead of oratorical eulogy and firing of musketry by platoons over his grave, there was sung "When the roll is called up yonder I'll be there." Then loving hands laid wreath and cross of flowers, and all others gave as their tribute their praises and their tears. And the dear old soldier now bivouacs in his his silent tent, where the storm that wrecks the wintry sky is no more to be heeded than summer evening's latest sigh that that lulls the flowers to rest.

W. T. P.

on prom
occurred and from thoughts heaven a way that Nothing
ing than er so frai
ing the c loved ch flowers, turning bright w joyful r
as he p
Being t planted them blo winter w assured daughte
than ma tion wit friends
effect: afraid o with me
last wor
"Johnni
of us al
About noon of by mor pathizit tenderly grave.
from th
fort one
1 The

Died. daught
va, nee
and 6
the ch
"It is v

Ped tru Clerk's of Poc Book N
the pay each f payabl
Bank, with 6 12, 189 Woods
said de made i said no
the s Woods will on 7 betwe M. and front c cahoni

the to sell at bided dead c 1000 a Pocah
east Green follow

Reg beech
bank with t
to two low on betwe tle Bi blazed beech and t side c
of the Upton
line N
cross poles trees 235 brand poles on to Ridge waste 563 on t Ridge Lick Mud
top o Camp
nesse
bank
them derin that T. M and
the

ey.	PERSONAL MENTION.
at the	Messrs Rucker and Scott atten-	We
have	ded Court at Lewisburg.	and n
uth of	Miss Anette Ligon was in town	Joh
inton	Monday.	go to
lately	John A. Warwick returned Mon-	a girl
nd of	day from a trip to Bath County.	M.
with	Bernard Slavin, of Highland,	corn.
n the	was in town several days lately.	get to
ngin-	Squire Yeager went down to Ac-	Mr
al as-	ademy last Sunday.	away.
r call-	Mrs Paul Golden has returned	gets
men	from a visit in Baltimore.	roasti
third	R. E. Overholt will move to	Ev
w was	Frankford shortly.	will o
Creek	Rev W. H. Hart, of Ritchie	the fi
orking	County, was in Pocahontas last	crack
w the	week, seeing after his farm.	Br
move	Howard Bird has sold his well	kers.
ack to	boring machine to Sydenstricker	Mi
ought	& Clark, of Academy.	to Te
moved	Miss Mabel Ligon has returned	J.
week.	from the Lewisburg Female Insti-	work
is will	tute to be with her mother, who	Th
cross-	still continues most seriously ill.	Neil
es be-	J. Emory Duffield, son of the	road
nk for	late J. R. Duffield near Edray, is	W.
some	now an enterprising merchant at	oats
brier.	Gypsum, Kansas.	Spain
at fea-	Rev Asa McNeil and family were	Mi
e dis-	delayed several days at Enoch Mc-	on th
th, of	Neil's, on Williams River, by deep	bette
chief	snow and high waters.	Ch
miles	Lawrence M'Collam, from Green-	on th
& O.	brier, son of James McCollam,	betsy
ing of	Esq., has been spending a few days	S.
e said	at the old home. He reports the	Cou
river	decease of Taylor Walton, whose	ing c
eventy	son Hasel is remembered in Mar-	M
driven	linton.	for s
s and	Luther A. Kieffer, son of Prof.	neck
as an-	Aldine Keiffer of The Musical Mil-	No
from	lion, Dayton, Virginia, died a few	gone
imate	days since. He was a youth of	at M
reat as	much promise and our sincere	G
e gave	sympathies are hereby extended to	J. D
f Swa-	his father, whose name is familiar	Bev
xactly,	to most of our readers as a poet	Pr
Creek 7	and music composer.	Bev
les and	P. D. Yeager and C. S. Erswell	ing
Stamp-	while in Denver ordered a large	Wai
teasur-	and complete line of Victor tennis	ing
ay that	goods. Mr Yeager was employed	M
old out	by the C. S. Erswell Cycle Co. to	visi
tion to	select the goods which in his judg-	som
fidence	ment will become the popular fan-	Wel
he rail-	cy of the expert players. Tennis	F. I
enbrier	promises to become the attractive	her
hontas	amusement of the season.—Chey-	in t
is ever	enne (Wyoming) Tribune.	fron
valuable	Ernst N. Moore, Esq., and Sam-	effo
np.	uel Sheets, of Dunmore, passed	dow
groves	through Marlinton Tuesday on	und
o miles	their return from Moundsville as	gett
ned by	guards in charge of the prisoners.

Proprietor.

Lieut. John Jordan Beard.

It becomes our mournful duty to record the death of a widely-known and much esteemed citizen, John Jordan Beard, Huntersville, West Virginia. This event occurred rather unexpectedly. Monday, 11 a. m., April 11th, 1898.

Lieut. Beard was the only son of the late Joseph Beard, Esq., and Mrs. Mattie Beard, near Hillsboro. He was born in Greenbrier County, April 21st, 1835, and was married to Minerva, daughter of James Edmiston, Esq., September 1866. At the time of his death he was within ten days of being 63 years of age. By this event his attached family is bereaved of a kind tender husband and a very affectionate and indulgent father. The community at large honors his memory as that of a good man whose influence has been for intelligence and good morals.

In the war between the States he served in the Bath Squadron, and made a record as a gallant and distinguished soldier. Late in the war he received a frightful wound that came near ending his life at the time. He survived to the surprise of every person familiar with its nature. For more than thirty years this wound has been a great personal affliction, and it is believed hastened the termination of his useful life. He has been a resident of Huntersville about 21 years. During this time he served the county two terms as clerk of both courts.

Early in life he professed piety, and maintained a consistent character as such in the pale of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was loyal and faithful to his communion and greatly attached to her doctrines and usages.

He is survived by his wife and two sons, Harry and Fred. Beard.

Being as Lieut. Beard was, a person of ardent social and domestic impulses, as a matter of course it was painful for him to think of the sundering of sweet home ties, yet in his sincere way he assured his loved ones that they should not grieve too much about him, for all was and would be well with him.

A month or so since we had a pleasant interchange of views concerning the 23d Psalm. In this Psalm it appears that nothing but the shadow would touch those following the Lord, our Shepherd when it comes to passing through the Valley. Having been a brave soldier and familiar with battle scenes in the presence of the enemy, that at such a time sitting down at a prepared feast would be one of the last things a leader in battle would be likely to think of doing, Lieut. Beard was prepared to appreciate words in the same Psalm where it is said: "Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies, Thou anointest my head with oil, my cup runneth over."

It would have been a very unfeeling heart not to have been thrilled at noticing how the countenance of this veteran Christian soldier hopefully beamed as he caught the idea, then how secure those must be who follow Christ, the good Shepherd or Leader, who gave his life for his flock, and can spread a table for them in the presence of the world, the flesh, and Satan, and permit goodness and mercy to follow his people all the days of their lives. And besides all this have hopes of dwelling in his house forever.

In compliance with his wishes, the funeral obsequies were of the simplest character. Every thing like ostentation was carefully avoided. Some of us felt that this really was one of the few occasions where a marked demonstration would have been in good form. It seems, however, he desired it otherwise. Instead of oratorical eulogy and firing of musketry by platoons over his grave, there was sung "When the roll is called up yonder I'll be there." Then loving hands laid wreath and cross of flowers, and all others gave as their tribute their praises and their tears. And the dear old soldier now bivouacs in his his silent tent, where the storm that wrecks the wintry sky is no more to be heeded than summer evening's latest sigh that that lulls the flowers to rest.

W. T. P.

on prom
occurred
and from thoughts heaven a way that Nothing
ing than er so frai
ing the c
loved ch flowers, turning bright w joyful r
as he p
Being t planted them blo
winter w assured daughte
than ma tion wit
friends.
effect:
afraid o
with me
last wor
"Johnni
of us al
About noon of
by mor
pathizit
tenderly grave.
from th
fort one
1 The

Died. daught
va, nee
and 6
the ch
"It is v

Ped tru Clerk's of Poc Book N
the pay each f payabl
Bank, with 6 12, 189 Woods
said de made i said no
the s Woods
will on 7 betwe

M. and
front c cahoni
the to sell at bided dead c 1000 a Pocah
east Green
follow

Reg beech
bank with t
to two low on betwe tle Bi blazed beech
and t side c
of the Upton
line N
cross poles trees 235 brand poles on to Ridge waste 563 on t Ridge Lick Mud
top o Camp
nesse
bank
them derin
that
T. M
and
the

to rectify it.

(To be Continued.)

ORIN W. SLAVIN, LIFE SKETCH

Orin Watts Slavin was born in Pocahontas County, West Virginia, January 29th, 1875. He departed this life April 11th, 1898, aged 23 years, 2 months, 9 days.

He was the oldest son of Winfield and Nannie Slavin. He was a young man of promise, gifted mind, genial manners, well informed on the topics of the day. When only a boy he was employed in the Times printing office, and afterwards he and Mr S. B. Scott published the Pocahontas Herald. He was full of hope and gave promise of doing something in the world.

Last spring brother Orin's health began to decline, and he went to Kansas expecting the change to restore his health, and there he intended to go into business. Instead of improving he grew worse, and, seeing that his end was near, he came back to the old home, February 4th. Disease had dealt heavily with him. The strong, manly form was light, the hectic flush was upon the pale cheek.

Mother and friends could not nurse him back to life; but we could sit by him, pray with him, and talk with him of that life that knows no end. On the 19th of March he was converted to God, and on April 1st was received into the M. E. Church, South. From this time on he had a clear Christian experience. He had a foretaste of God's peace, in his joy he said "Heaven is so near." His mind was clear to the end. On Monday, April 11th at 3 p. m., he peacefully passed away.

Orin Slavin was a warm hearted friend. His devotion to his mother was beautiful. His young life has been strangely cut short. God knows best. He was the first member of the Marvin Epworth League to pass away. Who next?

On Wednesday at 10 a. m. his funeral service was conducted at Marvin Chapel by his pastor, assisted by Rev Perry and Dr Sydenstricker. He was laid to rest in the Ruckman graveyard. The trailing arbutus was in full bloom close by his grave. It had been awakened from the sleep of winter to beauty and fragrance. Our brother's body shall also awake and be glorified.

JOHN H. DILLS.

ANY dishonest contractor, whose wealth accumulates while his work decays, ought to read, with a blush of shame, of a new bridge across the Danube. Pillars of a bridge built at the same place by the Emperor Trajan are to form a part of the structure. The engineers attest the strength of the Roman work under an emperor whose reign began exactly eighteen hundred years ago. To do as the Romans did may sometimes mean a descent to the lowest vices, but it may also signify a noble integrity in building as in being.

"NINETY-EIGHT per cent. of genius is hard work," says Thomas A. Edison, and he adds, "As for genius being inspired, inspiration is in most cases another word for perspiration." As the foremost example in the world of one type of genius, Mr Edison is an authority on the subject, and his aphorism corroborates Johnson's often-quoted definition of genius, "the infinite capacity for taking pains."

GENIAL BOB BURDETTE echoes the lament of a vast number of people when he says, "Every day I am sorry for something I did yesterday, and live in a chronic state of remorse and hair-shirt. I only hope the day after I die I shall not be sorry I did it."

THE hair of the head to be an ornament to the wearer should receive painstaking care, and if its color is faded Hall's Hair Renewer should be applied.

Congress
we have co
war. The woe, and w
It matters
wore the stand toget
men, as pe
far we hav
side of a tr
ed the earth
centuries w comes dea homes, and

After an sion, about both "Hous
what is kno olutions, w cations. T
ly transmi
and approv
virtually a They procl
"the people are and of and indep States den
ment of Sp
its authori
the island
its land and ba and Out
dent is dire
use the ent
es of the U
out the mil
to such ext
to carry the fect. The any intent
eighty, juri
said island,
tion thereo ernment to

General
on his retur heartiest an accorded ar
in good tas ception ten Confederat
the city off
lic. He ha lead our ar probably b sion of Ma
teers for th
the Virgini
ians who h
of the Lee under the thousands.

I was in alry with Valley Mon
in the fall
fever and v McNeel's
the tender
and the s covered aft Andrew an
of the sa wards orga
36 Virginis
George, W holt, Isaac Ruckman,
good citize
from your pany and close of the fell by the Morristown
1864. I hav some sad,
cqhontas,
again the there. I v ill health o
William I
or people s

to rectify it.

(To be Continued.)

ORIN W. SLAVIN, LIFE SKETCH

Orin Watts Slavin was born in Pocahontas County, West Virginia, January 29th, 1875. He departed this life April 11th, 1898, aged 23 years, 2 months, 9 days.

He was the oldest son of Winfield and Nannie Slavin. He was a young man of promise, gifted mind, genial manners, well informed on the topics of the day. When only a boy he was employed in the Times printing office, and afterwards he and Mr S. B. Scott published the Pocahontas Herald. He was full of hope and gave promise of doing something in the world.

Last spring brother Orin's health began to decline, and he went to Kansas expecting the change to restore his health, and there he intended to go into business. Instead of improving he grew worse, and, seeing that his end was near, he came back to the old home, February 4th. Disease had dealt heavily with him. The strong, manly form was light, the hectic flush was upon the pale cheek.

Mother and friends could not nurse him back to life; but we could sit by him, pray with him, and talk with him of that life that knows no end. On the 19th of March he was converted to God, and on April 1st was received into the M. E. Church, South. From this time on he had a clear Christian experience. He had a foretaste of God's peace, in his joy he said "Heaven is so near." His mind was clear to the end. On Monday, April 11th at 3 p. m., he peacefully passed away.

Orin Slavin was a warm hearted friend. His devotion to his mother was beautiful. His young life has been strangely cut short. God knows best. He was the first member of the Marvin Epworth League to pass away. Who next?

On Wednesday at 10 a. m. his funeral service was conducted at Marvin Chapel by his pastor, assisted by Rev Perry and Dr Sydenstricker. He was laid to rest in the Ruckman graveyard. The trailing arbutus was in full bloom close by his grave. It had been awakened from the sleep of winter to beauty and fragrance. Our brother's body shall also awake and be glorified.

JOHN H. DILLS.

ANY dishonest contractor, whose wealth accumulates while his work decays, ought to read, with a blush of shame, of a new bridge across the Danube. Pillars of a bridge built at the same place by the Emperor Trajan are to form a part of the structure. The engineers attest the strength of the Roman work under an emperor whose reign began exactly eighteen hundred years ago. To do as the Romans did may sometimes mean a descent to the lowest vices, but it may also signify a noble integrity in building as in being.

"NINETY-EIGHT per cent. of genius is hard work," says Thomas A. Edison, and he adds, "As for genius being inspired, inspiration is in most cases another word for perspiration." As the foremost example in the world of one type of genius, Mr Edison is an authority on the subject, and his aphorism corroborates Johnson's often-quoted definition of genius, "the infinite capacity for taking pains."

GENIAL BOB BURDETTE echoes the lament of a vast number of people when he says, "Every day I am sorry for something I did yesterday, and live in a chronic state of remorse and hair-shirt. I only hope the day after I die I shall not be sorry I did it."

THE hair of the head to be an ornament to the wearer should receive painstaking care, and if its color is faded Hall's Hair Renewer should be applied.

Congress
we have co
war. The woe, and w
It matters
wore the stand toget
men, as pe
far we hav
side of a tr
ed the earth
centuries w
comes dea
homes, and

After an sion, about both "Hous
what is kno
olutions, w cations. T
ly transmi
and approv
virtually a They procl
"the people
are and of
and indep States den
ment of Sp
its authori
the island
its land and ba and Out
dent is dire
use the ent
es of the U
out the mil
to such ext
to carry the fect. The any intent
eighty, juri
said island,
tion thereo
ernment to

General
on his retur
heartiest an accorded an in good tas ception ten Confederat
the city off
lic. He ha
lead our ar probably b
sion of Ma
teers for th
the Virgini
ians who h
of the Lee under the thousands.

I was in alry with Valley Mon
in the fall
fever and v McNeel's
the tender
and the s covered aft Andrew an
of the sa wards orga
36 Virginis
George, W
holt, Isaac Ruckman,
good citize
from your pany and close of the fell by the Morristown
1864. I hav
some sad,
cqhontas,
again the
there. I v
ill health o
William I
or people s

Death of Mrs Ligon.

Scots,
who has y. trim-l fea-
stock.
W. new you buy unafe ambs. nber-num-
s. ween Mcarday went unsel.
nothto be ht up rlings small place were all 87
t now nd of years influx pres-Elk. stures ked to from ted in nering
storeompestore
place.
ra for itance,
in to nts is ust be lls at cent.
h the ow and
cNeel,
resent-a of a
to be n. He Addiin the father
of his correses not a him.
to him eading Stylish not all are in a some yles in an the about milli-playing
; their rial for charge Please
before DEN. ie new rooster,
before hicken.
l pick-peach-rooster
vin W.
Brahma
peach.

At 2 o'clock Monday morning, Mrs Sally Gatewood Ligon, wife of Dr John Ligon of Clover Lick, peacefully passed away surrounded by her loved ones.

Her illness had been one of several months' duration, and for a long time she and her family knew that death must soon intervene. It was her lot to linger long as she approached the grave, but it was with an unflinching trust. Theirs to see her slowly sink under a hopeless and incurable malady and vainly try to recall to health and strength and to alleviate the sufferings of the one who bound that family so closely together.

We cannot refrain at this melancholy time from endeavoring to pay a tribute to the memory of the deceased, tho in doing so we realize how hopeless it is to express what we feel. Hers was a refined, sensitive, Christian spirit, and the effects of her influence will never die out. Her life lay in pleasant places, and she made such a home and reared such a family that even the casual visitor looked back on a visit to that household as one of the bright places in his life. The refining influences of her life were not confined to her own family, by any means. She had an instinctive dread of all that was low, evil, or unbecoming, and her intellectual quality enabled her to make this predominant feature of her nature very impressive. These elevating influences have been felt by many far and near. She was a loving wife, a devoted mother, a generous friend, an interesting companion, a famous housekeeper, as well as homemaker; and she is justly entitled to all these attributes.

At the time of her death she was in her fifty-sixth year. She was the daughter and only child by the first marriage of the late John W. Warwick. Almost her entire life was spent at Clover Lick, the most beautiful farm in Pocahontas County. She leaves surviving her husband, seven daughters, and one son. Her eldest daughter Mrs C. P. Dorr, preceded her to the grave, in 1892.

Mrs Ligon was a member of the Episcopal church, and was buried from the beautiful church erected on the home place by herself and husband. Long will she live in the memory of those who knew and loved her as one of the kindest, brightest, and best women who have ever lived;

"It singeth low in every heart,
We hear it each and all,
A song of those who answer not,
However we may call.

"They throng the silence of the breast,
We see them as of yore.
The kind, the true, the brave, the sweet
Who walk with us no more."

Turk vs. Skiles.

The case of Turk vs Skiles from this county was decided last week by the Supreme Court, and the decision of the lower court affirmed. This ends the battle which has been going on in the courts for years. The property in controversy is the hotel at the bridge built by Captain Jack Apperson about 1882. It was sold to Mrs Janie B. Skiles, and the purchase money bonds turned over to creditors of Apperson. A deed of trust was given by the Skiles to Mrs Skiles' father.

The suit was brought to sell the house for the benefit of the creditors of Apperson, and, while it was pending, the trustee, in the deed of trust for the benefit of Mrs Skiles' father, sold the land after a four week's advertisement, and the property was bought by Charles R. Durbin, of Grafton. The decision of the Court of Appeals confirms Mr Durbin's title to the property.

The Greenbrier Railroad.

B. M. Yeager has returned from a trip to Greenbrier where he has been taking options as to the right PERSON.

Richard Ha England. To
Rev Wm. T.
Presbytery.

The new mi
tersville Circu
derson, has ar
here last Sund
ple are very
with him.

The many fr gomery, the ge
be glad to let
more in this se panied by a
will be riding Springs the co

AC.

R. K. Burns
Springs last w
B. F. McElv
in town severa
Rev John T. on business.

Yancy Ligo
last week.

G. R. Curry
addition to his

The railroa
camp from Bu
side ford Mon

Sherman O
put a lot of ca Academy.

Prof Terry
returned to hi
day.

J. H. Syden
foot well, whic water, last wee

William Hi
of Falling Spr
in this section

A. M. Mc
Lewisburg, p
Levels Thurs
cattle to be gr

R. M. Bear
two head of y
are, no doubt,
lings in the co
on his farm o

Rev D. S. S
der A. R. Ker attend the spi
bytery which ril 27.

Bernard S
will open a t
few days. W tleman here, enterprise in

Dr F. T. M
foundation of expects to c
house, no de
old town, as l
house on mod

S. J. Payne
Saturday.

B

George Mc
of running a

William H
was here this

Malvin Ov
Sunday.

R. E. Ov
move to Frak

M. J. McN
tle to W. M grazed.

The railro
from here to day.

Jasper Au
cooking for again.

W. McClu
He has aboi
job, and will soon.

MI

P. O. Lot Taylor propo

Call and s
line of good

W. H. Br
which turne

School is 188, Scots,

y.
s.
who has
y. trim-
l fea-
stock.
W.
f new you buy unafe ambs. nber-num-
s. ween Mcarday went unsel.
noth-
to be ht up rlings
small place were all 87
t now nd of years influx pres-Elk. stures ked to
from ted in nering
storeompe-
store
place.
ra for itance,
in to nts is ust be lls at cent.
h the ow and
cNeel,
resent-a of a
to be
n. He Addiin the father
of his correses not a him.
to him
eading Stylish
not all are in a some yles in an the about milli-playing
; their rial for charge
Please
before DEN. ie new rooster,
before
hicken.
l pick-peach-rooster
vin W.
Brahma
peach.

Death of Mrs Ligon.

At 2 o'clock Monday morning, Mrs Sally Gatewood Ligon, wife of Dr John Ligon of Clover Lick, peacefully passed away surrounded by her loved ones.

Her illness had been one of several months' duration, and for a long time she and her family knew that death must soon intervene. It was her lot to linger long as she approached the grave, but it was with an unflinching trust. Theirs to see her slowly sink under a hopeless and incurable malady and vainly try to recall to health and strength and to alleviate the sufferings of the one who bound that family so closely together.

We cannot refrain at this melancholy time from endeavoring to pay a tribute to the memory of the deceased, tho in doing so we realize how hopeless it is to express what we feel. Hers was a refined, sensitive, Christian spirit, and the effects of her influence will never die out. Her life lay in pleasant places, and she made such a home and reared such a family that even the casual visitor looked back on a visit to that household as one of the bright places in his life. The refining influences of her life were not confined to her own family, by any means. She had an instinctive dread of all that was low, evil, or unbecoming, and her intellectual quality enabled her to make this predominant feature of her nature very impressive. These elevating influences have been felt by many far and near. She was a loving wife, a devoted mother, a generous friend, an interesting companion, a famous housekeeper, as well as homemaker; and she is justly entitled to all these attributes.

At the time of her death she was in her fifty-sixth year. She was the daughter and only child by the first marriage of the late John W. Warwick. Almost her entire life was spent at Clover Lick, the most beautiful farm in Pocahontas County. She leaves surviving her husband, seven daughters, and one son. Her eldest daughter Mrs C. P. Dorr, preceded her to the grave, in 1892.

Mrs Ligon was a member of the Episcopal church, and was buried from the beautiful church erected on the home place by herself and husband. Long will she live in the memory of those who knew and loved her as one of the kindest, brightest, and best women who have ever lived;

"It singeth low in every heart,
We hear it each and all,
A song of those who answer not,
However we may call.

"They throng the silence of the breast,
We see them as of yore.
The kind, the true, the brave, the sweet
Who walk with us no more."

Turk vs. Skiles.

The case of Turk vs Skiles from this county was decided last week by the Supreme Court, and the decision of the lower court affirmed. This ends the battle which has been going on in the courts for years. The property in controversy is the hotel at the bridge built by Captain Jack Apperson about 1882. It was sold to Mrs Janie B. Skiles, and the purchase money bonds turned over to creditors of Apperson. A deed of trust was given by the Skiles to Mrs Skiles' father.

The suit was brought to sell the house for the benefit of the creditors of Apperson, and, while it was pending, the trustee, in the deed of trust for the benefit of Mrs Skiles' father, sold the land after a four week's advertisement, and the property was bought by Charles R. Durbin, of Grafton. The decision of the Court of Appeals confirms Mr Durbin's title to the property.

The Greenbrier Railroad.

B. M. Yeager has returned from a trip to Greenbrier where he has been taking options as to the right

PERSON.

Richard Ha England. To Rev Wm. T.
Presbytery.

The new mi
tersville Circu
derson, has ar
here last Sund
ple are very
with him.

The many fr
gomery, the ge
be glad to let
more in this se
panied by a
will be riding Springs the co

AC.

R. K. Burns
Springs last w
B. F. McElv
in town severa
Rev John T. on business.

Yancy Ligo
last week.

G. R. Curry
addition to his

The railroa
camp from Bu
side ford Mon

Sherman O
put a lot of ca Academy.

Prof Terry
returned to hi
day.

J. H. Syden
foot well, whic
water, last wee

William Hi
of Falling Spr
in this section

A. M. Mc
Lewisburg, p
Levels Thurs
cattle to be gr

R. M. Bear
two head of y
are, no doubt,
lings in the co
on his farm o

Rev D. S. S
der A. R. Ker
attend the spi
bytery which ril 27.

Bernard S
will open a t
few days. W
tleman here,
enterprise in

Dr F. T. M
foundation of expects to c
house, no de
old town, as l
house on mod

S. J. Payne
Saturday.

B

George Mc
of running a

William H
was here this

Malvin Ov
Sunday.

R. E. Ov
move to Frak

M. J. McN
tle to W. M grazed.

The railro
from here to day.

Jasper Au
cooking for again.

W. McClu
He has aboi
job, and will soon.

MI

P. O. Lot Taylor propo

Call and s
line of good

W. H. Br
which turne

School is)

BIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

John R. Flemmens.—His Wife and Children.

NE of the most unique and picturesque characters that figure in our local history was John R. Flemmens, of Laurel Creek. Early in the century residents of the head of Stony Creek saw smoke rising from Red Lick Mountain. At first it was thought to be a hunter's camp. Upon noticing the smoke continuing for some days, curiosity was awakened and parties went up into the Red Lick wilderness to see what it meant. To their surprise they found a family in camp arranging for a permanent settlement.

There were five persons, John R. Flemmens and Elizabeth Flemmens, his wife; James and Frederick were the sons and one daughter, Elizabeth. There were nice horses and several cows ranging about. The family had been there for several weeks, yet no one ever found out when or whence they had come. Had these persons arrived in a balloon from the clouds at midnight their coming could not have been better concealed than it seemed to have been from the neighbors.

The Flemmens opened up what is now the "Rosser Place." But few persons were ever known to labor more industriously than the mother and her three children. Mr Flemmens bought lands from Isaac Gregory amounting to four thousand acres. It was a part of the William Lewis Lovely Survey, the papers dated 1777, and this region was then in the metes and bounds of Harrison County. Such a deal in lands sounds fabulous now, or did until the recent operations of Colonel McGraw and others have rather eclipsed the Flemmens' deals on that line. John R. Flemmens at times seemed pressingly anxious to sell large tracts at ten cents an acre. Lands now held by Colonel McGraw, the Whites, Shearers, and others.

On his possessions John Flemmens made an opening, built a house, and preparations were made for an immense barn. The barn was never finished. Some of the hewn timber for the barn was more than two feet across the face and smooth as ice. How such work could be so smoothly done was the wonder of all who may have examined it.

The Flemmens family became noted for sugar making. They would work several hundred trees in the season. On the southern exposures an early camp would be worked, then move to another less exposed, and then move into the north and close the season there. The mother and children would carry the sap for miles in pails supported by straps from their shoulders, and much of the sap was carried up hill. In making arrangements for evaporating the sap an immense tree would be felled and the kettles suspended against it, and then the fires kindled. It was no uncommon thing to see fifteen or twenty large kettles boiling at the same time.

The output would amount to hundreds of pounds. The sugar was generally stirred until it pulverized, and much of it was nearly as fair as brown or coffee sugar.

A good deal of the sugar was taken to Lewisburg and exchanged for more kettles. Mr Flemmens could pack three large iron kettles on one horse. In these excursions to the sugar market, and very frequently at other times, John Flemmens had three horses, driving the foremost, riding the middle one, and leading the third, all arranged tandem fashion. In this manner he could traverse the bridle paths, at an early day the common means of communication between places.

The entire family became members of the church.

James Flemmens was fond of hunting, but he met with so little success that his father warned him that if he came home any more without venison he should not be allowed to waste any more time as he had been doing.

"Worrich pays better than no luck, Jim, in huntin', and so you will know what will be up if you don't git nothin' this time."

This was spoken in stentorian tones with a commanding voice, and it seems to have rung in Jim my's ears to a practical purpose.

That day he had the luck to bring home a venison.

The same day the late venerable John Barlow killed a deer, but he did not bring it home; left it hanging in the woods, hunter fashion, and it mysteriously disappeared. Suspicious gossip ran high, which the Flemmens meekly endured until they began to think that forbearance was no longer a virtue, and a church trial was demanded to vindicate Jimmy's character from the slanderous insinuations in connexion with the disappearance of the deer.

The preliminaries for trial being duly arranged by the Presiding Elder at Hamlin Chapel, the slandered hunter put in his plea, with flowing tears and tremulous voice, when the Elder asked the question "Brother James Flemmens, did you or did you not take Brother Barlow's deer?"

"I hope not. God knows I hope God does not know I took the deer as I am slandered with."

Mr Barlow could not hold in and and exclaims: "God does n't know any such thing."

The strife of tongues now promised to become sharp, but the imperious Presiding Elder made it short and decisive by a wave of the hand and a significant look toward the door. Somehow, as the Flemmens thought unjustly, the majestic Elder construed James' plea as a virtual confession that he had spirited away the missing game. He solemnly deposed him from church membership and thus cleared all others of slanderous intentions.

Soon as the decision was announced, John Flemmens arose and asked for a dismissal. "Give me my name and give me old Betsy's too!" Young Betsy tearfully asked for her name also. They soon found a church home elsewhere.

In the course of events Frederick was the first to die, and that too far away from his mountain home under sadly peculiar circumstances. John B. Flemmens called at John Barlow's to pass the night. Mr Barlow had heard of Frederick's death, but did not wish any one to say any thing about it before morning. But one of the boys came in before his father could repress him and said: "Mr Flemmens, do you know that Fred is dead?"

"Is it possible, Mr Barlow, have you heard that my boy is dead?"

"Yes," replied Mr Barlow, "I am sorry to say it is even so."

In an instant the bereaved father seemed to be frenzied by his grief. He caught up his three horses and started for home in the night. As he slowly ascended the mountain path his agonized cries could be heard for miles.

"O Freddy, my dear son, your poor old father will never see you again. O Freddy, Freddy, my son my son!"

While on a visit to Ohio, Mr Flemmens died there.

Mrs Flemmens and her daughter Elizabeth spent their last years in the vicinity of Buckeye. They spun and wove and industriously earned a living as long as their willing hands could retain their cunning, and had the respectful esteem of all their neighbors.

W. T. P.

CASTORIA.

The famous signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

To Cure Constipation Forever. Take Castoria Candy Cathartic, 10c or 25c. If C. C. O. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The famous signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

WHITMER'S

EUREKA, LIVER AND KIDNEY REMEDY.

A Vegetable Combination of Berberis, Roots and Herbs, for diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, Dyspepsia, Sick and Nervous Headache, Fever and Ague, Constipation of the Bowels, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Depression of Spirits, Loss of Appetite, Bladder and Kidney Affections.

INDIGESTION

from which Constipation and all other Physical Murders arise, is surely and speedily overcome by the use of a Wonderful but Harmless Remedy. Read Carefully. Act Promptly.

CONSTIPATION DEFINED.

"Constipation—Stagnation or incomplete action in evacuating the bowels; the inability of the lower intestines to expel the alvine discharges; the purged matter often remaining in the bowels several days."—Dr. J. C. Whitmer.

When this effete and poisonous matter remains in the system, it poisons and contaminates every organ with which it comes in contact.

It comes in contact with the Stomach, Liver, Heart, and all Vital Organs.

How does it do this? The blood becomes poisoned, and in its circulation through our entire system, it carries the poison from the foul, effete matter to every organ and tissue in the body.

Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Loss of Appetite, Headache, Nervousness, Constipation, Fever and Ague, and Bladder Diseases are all brought about by the Digestive Apparatus being deranged by coming directly in contact with the effete food matter in the bowels. Even the Lungs are affected by Constipation causing Lung Trouble and Consumption.

WHITMER MEDICINE CO.

LOGAN, UTAH.

BIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

John R. Flemmens.—His Wife and Children.

NE of the most unique and picturesque characters that figure in our local history was John R. Flemmens, of Laurel Creek. Early in the century residents of the head of Stony Creek saw smoke rising from Red Lick Mountain. At first it was thought to be a hunter's camp. Upon noticing the smoke continuing for some days, curiosity was awakened and parties went up into the Red Lick wilderness to see what it meant. To their surprise they found a family in camp arranging for a permanent settlement.

There were five persons, John R. Flemmens and Elizabeth Flemmens, his wife; James and Frederick were the sons and one daughter, Elizabeth. There were nice horses and several cows ranging about. The family had been there for several weeks, yet no one ever found out when or whence they had come. Had these persons arrived in a balloon from the clouds at midnight their coming could not have been better concealed than it seemed to have been from the neighbors.

The Flemmens opened up what is now the "Rosser Place." But few persons were ever known to labor more industriously than the mother and her three children. Mr Flemmens bought lands from Isaac Gregory amounting to four thousand acres. It was a part of the William Lewis Lovely Survey, the papers dated 1777, and this region was then in the metes and bounds of Harrison County. Such a deal in lands sounds fabulous now, or did until the recent operations of Colonel McGraw and others have rather eclipsed the Flemmens' deals on that line. John R. Flemmens at times seemed pressingly anxious to sell large tracts at ten cents an acre. Lands now held by Colonel McGraw, the Whites, Shearers, and others.

On his possessions John Flemmens made an opening, built a house, and preparations were made for an immense barn. The barn was never finished. Some of the hewn timber for the barn was more than two feet across the face and smooth as ice. How such work could be so smoothly done was the wonder of all who may have examined it.

The Flemmens family became noted for sugar making. They would work several hundred trees in the season. On the southern exposures an early camp would be worked, then move to another less exposed, and then move into the north and close the season there. The mother and children would carry the sap for miles in pails supported by straps from their shoulders, and much of the sap was carried up hill. In making arrangements for evaporating the sap an immense tree would be felled and the kettles suspended against it, and then the fires kindled. It was no uncommon thing to see fifteen or twenty large kettles boiling at the same time.

The output would amount to hundreds of pounds. The sugar was generally stirred until it pulverized, and much of it was nearly as fair as brown or coffee sugar.

A good deal of the sugar was taken to Lewisburg and exchanged for more kettles. Mr Flemmens could pack three large iron kettles on one horse. In these excursions to the sugar market, and very frequently at other times, John Flemmens had three horses, driving the foremost, riding the middle one, and leading the third, all arranged tandem fashion. In this manner he could traverse the bridle paths, at an early day the common means of communication between places.

The entire family became members of the church.

James Flemmens was fond of hunting, but he met with so little success that his father warned him that if he came home any more without venison he should not be allowed to waste any more time as he had been doing.

"Worrich pays better than no luck, Jim, in huntin', and so you will know what will be up if you don't git nothin' this time."

This was spoken in stentorian tones with a commanding voice, and it seems to have rung in Jim my's ears to a practical purpose.

That day he had the luck to bring home a venison.

The same day the late venerable John Barlow killed a deer, but he did not bring it home; left it hanging in the woods, hunter fashion, and it mysteriously disappeared. Suspicious gossip ran high, which the Flemmens meekly endured until they began to think that forbearance was no longer a virtue, and a church trial was demanded to vindicate Jimmy's character from the slanderous insinuations in connexion with the disappearance of the deer.

The preliminaries for trial being duly arranged by the Presiding Elder at Hamlin Chapel, the slandered hunter put in his plea, with flowing tears and tremulous voice, when the Elder asked the question "Brother James Flemmens, did you or did you not take Brother Barlow's deer?"

"I hope not. God knows I hope God does not know I took the deer as I am slandered with."

Mr Barlow could not hold in and and exclaims: "God does n't know any such thing."

The strife of tongues now promised to become sharp, but the imperious Presiding Elder made it short and decisive by a wave of the hand and a significant look toward the door. Somehow, as the Flemmens thought unjustly, the majestic Elder construed James' plea as a virtual confession that he had spirited away the missing game. He solemnly deposed him from church membership and thus cleared all others of slanderous intentions.

Soon as the decision was announced, John Flemmens arose and asked for a dismissal. "Give me my name and give me old Betsy's too!" Young Betsy tearfully asked for her name also. They soon found a church home elsewhere.

In the course of events Frederick was the first to die, and that too far away from his mountain home under sadly peculiar circumstances. John B. Flemmens called at John Barlow's to pass the night. Mr Barlow had heard of Frederick's death, but did not wish any one to say any thing about it before morning. But one of the boys came in before his father could repress him and said: "Mr Flemmens, do you know that Fred is dead?"

"Is it possible, Mr Barlow, have you heard that my boy is dead?"

"Yes," replied Mr Barlow, "I am sorry to say it is even so."

In an instant the bereaved father seemed to be frenzied by his grief. He caught up his three horses and started for home in the night. As he slowly ascended the mountain path his agonized cries could be heard for miles.

"O Freddy, my dear son, your poor old father will never see you again. O Freddy, Freddy, my son my son!"

While on a visit to Ohio, Mr Flemmens died there.

Mrs Flemmens and her daughter Elizabeth spent their last years in the vicinity of Buckeye. They spun and wove and industriously earned a living as long as their willing hands could retain their cunning, and had the respectful esteem of all their neighbors.

W. T. P.

CASTORIA.

The famous signature of Dr. H. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

To Cure Constipation Forever. Take Castoria Candy Cathartic, 10c or 25c. If C. C. O. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The famous signature of Dr. H. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

WHITMER'S

EUREKA, LIVER AND KIDNEY REMEDY.

A Vegetable Combination of Berberis, Roots and Herbs, for diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, Dyspepsia, Sick and Nervous Headache, Fever and Ague, Constipation of the Bowels, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Depression of Spirits, Loss of Appetite, Bladder and Kidney Affections.

INDIGESTION

from which Constipation and all other Physical Murders arise, is surely and speedily overcome by the use of a Wonderful but Harmless Remedy. Read Carefully. Act Promptly.

CONSTIPATION DEFINED.

"Constipation—Stagnation or incomplete action in evacuating the bowels; the inability of the lower intestines to expel the alvine discharges; the purged matter often remaining in the bowels several days."—Dr. H. H. Fletcher.

When this effete and poisonous matter remains in the system, it poisons and contaminates every organ with which it comes in contact.

It comes in contact with the Stomach, Liver, Heart, and all Vital Organs.

How does it do this? The blood becomes poisoned, and in its circulation through our entire system, it carries the poison from the foul, effete matter to every organ and tissue in the body.

Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Loss of Appetite, Headache, Nervousness, Constipation, Fever and Ague, and all other diseases are all brought about by the Digestive Apparatus being deranged by coming directly in contact with the effete and foul matter in the bowels. Even the Lungs are affected by Constipation causing Lung Trouble and Consumption.

WHITMER MEDICINE CO.

LOGAN, UTAH.

BIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

Robert Moore—An Early Settler.

ROBERT MOORE was a son of Moses Moore, the distinguished pioneer. He was born May 27th, 1772, and was reared on Knapp's Creek. His wife was Rebecca McCollam, of Brown's Mountain near Driscoll. After living on the Greenbrier a number of years at the Bridger Place, he moved to Edray on the Drinnan opening. They were the parents of five sons, Isaac, Robert, Andrew, James, William, and one daughter Jane.

Jane became Mrs. Andrew Duffield, and lived at the head of Stony Creek, now owned by the Delaney family recently moved into our county.

Isaac Moore married Catherine Gillilan, and settled at Edray where S. B. Moore lives. In their family there were three sons and five daughters.

Mary Ann became Mrs. Amos Barlow, first wife; Rebecca became Mrs. David Hannah; Elizabeth is Mrs. Bryson Hannap, near Frost; Eveline became Mrs. Paul Sharp; Julia Francis is now Mrs. William Sharp.

Allen Taylor Moore married Mary Catherine Gay, daughter of the late Robert Gay and Mrs. Bettie Gay. Robert Gay was Recorder of Pocahontas County in reconstruction times immediately after the civil war between the States. Mr. A. T. Moore lives near Edray. His children are John Kenney, Evansville, Indiana; Robert, in Butte City, Montana; Georgia Miami, now Mrs. Isaac Sharp; Alwilda Nebraska, now Mrs. John Young; and Lulu Elizabeth, now Mrs. Davis Barlow.

William Rives Moore married Ruth Gay, and lived near Edray. He was a person greatly respected. His sympathies were with the Union adherents, and he died at Wheeling during the war, after many vicissitudes.

Samuel Bryson Moore married Ann Sharp, and lives on the Edray homestead and is a farmer and merchant. Mrs. Effie Barlow and Mrs. Flora Gay are his daughters.

Full particulars of Isaac Moore Esq., as teacher, magistrate, sheriff, and prominence as a citizen have been given in a special sketch.

Andrew Moore fell from a tree near the sugar camp at the Bridger place in early youth and was instantly killed.

William Moore, upon attaining his majority, went to Ohio, where he arose to eminence as a physician, and became widely known as a preaching elder in the Church of the Disciples.

James R. Moore, upon his marriage with Mrs. Jane Funkhouser, of Rockbridge County, lived some years on a part of the homestead now owned by G. H. McLaughlin, of Marlinton. He thence moved to Braxton County. His children were Porterfield, Ephraim, and Mary Ellen. The latest information the friends have of his sons they were arranging for a trapping and hunting excursion to the Rocky Mountains. They had previously hunted a great deal in the Williams River wilds, and were quite successful. The mantle of their eminent ancestor, Moses Moore, seems to have fallen on them.

Robert Moore, Jr., married Eliza Bruffey, a grand-daughter of Richard Hill, the pioneer. After living on the Edray homestead many years he moved to Iowa. His sons were Franklin Davis, Moses Clark, and George Preston.

Franklin D. Moore married Sally Young, and resides at Fort Scott, Kansas.

Moses O. Moore married Miss Susan Livermore, and after a brief residence at Edray, moved to Kansas, and is now at Fort Scott. He is a telegraphic operator. Mrs. Moore is a teacher.

George P. Moore first married Lizzie Frange, and settled on a section of the Edray homestead. His second marriage was with Mrs. Ruth Moore, widow of William R.

Moore, a daughter of Robert Gay. George P. Moore is a local Elder in the pale of the M. E. Church, a successful merchant and grazier, proficient in the use of mechanical tools, Coroner of the County and has been Commissioner of the Court, local banker, etc.

The property owned by Robert Moore, the early settler, was first opened by Thomas Drinnan, and is one of the earliest settlements in this region. The Drinnan tract must have included thousands of acres. The quality of the land is the best of its kind, much of it spontaneously sodding in bluegrass when timber is "belled." Parties who know are rather reticent as to the precise spot occupied by Thomas Drinnan's cabin home, since surveying parties have been so anxious to locate it, for fear there is something under it all that bodes trouble. The breaking up of Thomas Drinnan's home by the Indians about 1782 was one of the most distressing events that happened during Indian troubles.

When Robert Moore took possession but a few acres were cleared. He and his sons made extensive improvements of a very substantial character. He erected a commodious, two-story, brick mansion, the first and only building of its kind in the vicinity. The site was very near William Sharp's residence, and much of the brick was used in the new building. A field just beyond William Sharp's in the direction of Elk is thought to have been one of the first to be cultivated.

It is more than likely that the first time Robert Moore ever set his foot on lands some day to be his own, was when he came from the east with his father, Moses Moore, and others, in pursuit of French surveyors and their Indian guides. An Indian was killed and a Frenchman wounded near where the two prongs of the Indian Draft converge. It has not been so many years since human remains were unearthed near that place. It is the impression of some, too, that it was the dispersion of this exploring party that originated the legends of hidden treasures in two or three localities of our county, some near Mill Point others near Marlinton.

Robert Moore was the worthy son of a worthy father. Every body had confidence in "Uncle Bobby," and when he went hence to be no more, genuine tears embayed the memory of the kind, honest, and brave old settler.

W. T. P.

FOREST and STREAM

THE SPORTSMAN'S JOURNAL.

Travel Fishing The Dog Adventure Nature Trap and Hunting Yachting Target Camping Canoeing Shooting

FOREST AND STREAM illustrated journal, devoted to the sports of the field and the encouraging in men and women of a healthy interest in outdoor recreation.

Weekly, 32 pages; $4 per year; $2 for six months; 10 cents a copy. Sample free.

We are the largest American publishers of works on outdoor sports. Send for our free illustrated catalog of books.

Forest and Stream Publishing Co. 346 Broadway, New York.

SILVER THE ISSUE IN 1900.

Money the Pricing Instrument.

Civilization and Progress Now Realized. See With Money Supply in All Ages.

The Money Question discussed in the light of experience and history.

The Silver Knight-Watchman.

The Leading National Paper of America.

U. S. Senator W. M. STEWART, Editor.

A correct account of the progress of Congress given each week.

A family paper for the home and the office. All the important happenings of the week, condensed, in news columns.

A large circulation in every State and Territory.

Subscription Price, $1 Per Year. Send for sample; agent wanted.

Published weekly by the Silver Knight Publishing Co.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

BIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

Robert Moore—An Early Settler.

ROBERT MOORE was a son of Moses Moore, the distinguished pioneer. He was born May 27th, 1772, and was reared on Knapp's Creek. His wife was Rebecca McCollam, of Brown's Mountain near Driscoll. After living on the Greenbrier a number of years at the Bridger Place, he moved to Edray on the Drinnan opening. They were the parents of five sons, Isaac, Robert, Andrew, James, William, and one daughter Jane.

Jane became Mrs. Andrew Duffield, and lived at the head of Stony Creek, now owned by the Delaney family recently moved into our county.

Isaac Moore married Catherine Gillilan, and settled at Edray where S. B. Moore lives. In their family there were three sons and five daughters.

Mary Ann became Mrs. Amos Barlow, first wife; Rebecca became Mrs. David Hannah; Elizabeth is Mrs. Bryson Hannap, near Frost; Eveline became Mrs. Paul Sharp; Julia Francis is now Mrs. William Sharp.

Allen Taylor Moore married Mary Catherine Gay, daughter of the late Robert Gay and Mrs. Bettie Gay. Robert Gay was Recorder of Pocahontas County in reconstruction times immediately after the civil war between the States. Mr. A. T. Moore lives near Edray. His children are John Kenney, Evansville, Indiana; Robert, in Butte City, Montana; Georgia Miami, now Mrs. Isaac Sharp; Alwilda Nebraska, now Mrs. John Young; and Lulu Elizabeth, now Mrs. Davis Barlow.

William Rives Moore married Ruth Gay, and lived near Edray. He was a person greatly respected. His sympathies were with the Union adherents, and he died at Wheeling during the war, after many vicissitudes.

Samuel Bryson Moore married Ann Sharp, and lives on the Edray homestead and is a farmer and merchant. Mrs. Effie Barlow and Mrs. Flora Gay are his daughters.

Full particulars of Isaac Moore Esq., as teacher, magistrate, sheriff, and prominence as a citizen have been given in a special sketch.

Andrew Moore fell from a tree near the sugar camp at the Bridger place in early youth and was instantly killed.

William Moore, upon attaining his majority, went to Ohio, where he arose to eminence as a physician, and became widely known as a preaching elder in the Church of the Disciples.

James R. Moore, upon his marriage with Mrs. Jane Funkhouser, of Rockbridge County, lived some years on a part of the homestead now owned by G. H. McLaughlin, of Marlinton. He thence moved to Braxton County. His children were Porterfield, Ephraim, and Mary Ellen. The latest information the friends have of his sons they were arranging for a trapping and hunting excursion to the Rocky Mountains. They had previously hunted a great deal in the Williams River wilds, and were quite successful. The mantle of their eminent ancestor, Moses Moore, seems to have fallen on them.

Robert Moore, Jr., married Eliza Bruffey, a grand-daughter of Richard Hill, the pioneer. After living on the Edray homestead many years he moved to Iowa. His sons were Franklin Davis, Moses Clark, and George Preston.

Franklin D. Moore married Sally Young, and resides at Fort Scott, Kansas.

Moses O. Moore married Miss Susan Livermore, and after a brief residence at Edray, moved to Kansas, and is now at Fort Scott. He is a telegraphic operator. Mrs. Moore is a teacher.

George P. Moore first married Lizzie Frange, and settled on a section of the Edray homestead. His second marriage was with Mrs. Ruth Moore, widow of William R.

Moore, a daughter of Robert Gay. George P. Moore is a local Elder in the pale of the M. E. Church, a successful merchant and grazier, proficient in the use of mechanical tools, Coroner of the County and has been Commissioner of the Court, local banker, etc.

The property owned by Robert Moore, the early settler, was first opened by Thomas Drinnan, and is one of the earliest settlements in this region. The Drinnan tract must have included thousands of acres. The quality of the land is the best of its kind, much of it spontaneously sodding in bluegrass when timber is "belled." Parties who know are rather reticent as to the precise spot occupied by Thomas Drinnan's cabin home, since surveying parties have been so anxious to locate it, for fear there is something under it all that bodes trouble. The breaking up of Thomas Drinnan's home by the Indians about 1782 was one of the most distressing events that happened during Indian troubles.

When Robert Moore took possession but a few acres were cleared. He and his sons made extensive improvements of a very substantial character. He erected a commodious, two-story, brick mansion, the first and only building of its kind in the vicinity. The site was very near William Sharp's residence, and much of the brick was used in the new building. A field just beyond William Sharp's in the direction of Elk is thought to have been one of the first to be cultivated.

It is more than likely that the first time Robert Moore ever set his foot on lands some day to be his own, was when he came from the east with his father, Moses Moore, and others, in pursuit of French surveyors and their Indian guides. An Indian was killed and a Frenchman wounded near where the two prongs of the Indian Draft converge. It has not been so many years since human remains were unearthed near that place. It is the impression of some, too, that it was the dispersion of this exploring party that originated the legends of hidden treasures in two or three localities of our county, some near Mill Point others near Marlinton.

Robert Moore was the worthy son of a worthy father. Every body had confidence in "Uncle Bobby," and when he went hence to be no more, genuine tears embayed the memory of the kind, honest, and brave old settler.

W. T. P.

FOREST and STREAM

THE SPORTSMAN'S JOURNAL.

Travel Fishing The Dog Adventure Nature Trap and Hunting Yachting Target Camping Canoeing Shooting

FOREST AND STREAM illustrated journal, devoted to the sports of the field and the encouraging in men and women of a healthy interest in outdoor recreation.

Weekly, 32 pages; $4 per year; $2 for six months; 10 cents a copy. Sample free.

We are the largest American publishers of works on outdoor sports. Send for our free illustrated catalog of books.

Forest and Stream Publishing Co. 346 Broadway, New York.

SILVER THE ISSUE IN 1900.

Money the Pricing Instrument.

Civilization and Progress Now Realized. Show With Money Supply in All Ages.

The Money Question discussed in the light of experience and history.

The Silver Knight-Watchman.

The Leading National Paper of America.

U. S. Senator W. M. STEWART, Editor.

A correct account of the progress of Congress given each week.

A family paper for the home and abroad. All the important happenings of the week, condensed, in news columns. A large circulation in every State and Territory.

Subscription Price, $1 Per Year. Send for sample; agent wanted.

Published weekly by the Silver Knight Publishing Co.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Surgical Operation.

Mrs N. S. Duffield, near this place, is lying at the point of death from an abscess in her side. About sixteen years ago she was in a cherry tree, and, the limb breaking with her, she jumped to the ground a distance of sixteen feet. Since then she has been troubled with a pain in her side. The trouble grew worse recently. Dr Cunningham, by the use of an aspirator, has removed a large amount of matter from her side. This amount of wasting grew so large that it was weakening her daily.

The physician discovered a loose piece of bone which was the evident cause of the trouble. The patient was weakening so fast that it was necessary to do something speedily. An operation was decided upon, and it was performed by Dr Cunningham with the assistance of Mrs C. A. Yeager, who administered chloroform. When the incision was made it was discovered that the condition of that region was much more serious than had been supposed. The spinal column and ribs were diseased in several places. One rib was eaten entirely off. Over a hundred pieces of bone were taken out and one whole rib. An opening was discovered into the pleural cavity and a quantity of pus was extracted from this opening. It would be against reason to hope for her recovery.

The patient is a woman aged 38, and is the mother of a large family. She is greatly respected in the vicinity and great sympathy is expressed for her and her family in this trouble.

Instinct.

A keen observer of natural phenomena, says that old range cattle

Mr
were

C.
Stann
ty.

Mi gie S in to

Mi
Neel
town

Ho
Morg
Marli

Cap
from is no

Cap
retain Oscar
lieute

Wi
Mr
ton l

Mr
in to

Mr sick Tw

near Se Dun

C. ton,
Ho

A. P up o
J.

go to the M
Th
morn

BIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

Squire Hugh McLaughlin,
Late of Marlinton.

THE third group of the McLaughlin relationship in our county are the descendants of Squire Hugh McLaughlin, late of Marlinton, West Va. His early life was spent in part on Jackson's River, Bath County.

His wife was Nancy Gwinn, daughter of John Gwinn, Sr., and grand-daughter of John Bradshaw, the founder of Huntersville.

Squire Hugh McLaughlin and Hugh McLaughlin, Esq., late of Huntersville, were cousins and were intimately associated when young men. They were married about the same time, jointly leased a piece of land on Jackson's River, built a cabin and went to housekeeping. There was but one room. This they divided between them and kept separate establishments. Squire McLaughlin would often tell how an axe, maul, and Wedge made up his original business capital, and how his house-keeping effects were carried by his young wife on a horse the day they went to themselves in their cabin home on leased land.

Upon the expiration of the lease early in the twenties, Squire McLaughlin settled in the woods on Thomas Creek and opened up lands now owned by his son, Geo. H. McLaughlin.

Mr and Mrs McLaughlin were the parents of three sons and two daughters. William Jacob, John Calvin, George Henry, Elizabeth, and Margaret.

Margaret, a promising young girl, died very suddenly.

Elizabeth became Mrs George Rohan, lived awhile on Roaring Creek, Randolph County, and finally located near the Hot Springs, where her family now lives. Mr Rohan was one of the builders of the Marlinton Bridge, 1854-5; a faithful Confederate soldier in the war from start to finish. His young wife refuged from Roaring Creek soon after the battle of Rich Mountain, with her two little children, one tied behind her and the other in her arms, and made the journey from Roaring Creek to the Warm Springs alone on horseback.

William Jacob McLaughlin first married Sarah Gum, from Meadow Dale, Highland County, and settled near Huntersville. One daughter, Nancy Jane, who died in early youth. His second marriage was with Susan Bible, daughter of Jacob Bible, near Green Bank. In this family were two sons and two daughters.

Elizabeth became Mrs John M. Lightner, lately of Abilene, Texas.

Alice was a teacher of public schools, married Dennis W. Dever, of Knapp's Creek, and they live near Frost.

Mitchell D. McLaughlin married Emma Kerr Greaver, of Bath, and lives near Savannah Mills, in Greenbrier County. They have five children.

Jacob Andrew McLaughlin married Sally Gibson, and lives at Brimfield, Indiana.

John O. McLaughlin married Isabella, daughter of Adam Lightner, of Highland County, and settled near Huntersville. When a youth going to school at Hillsboro he was thrown from a horse and received injuries that disabled him for manual labor. He acquired a good education, taught school, wrote in the Clerk's office, and was an expert business man greatly respected by his fellow citizens.

G. H. McLaughlin married Ruhamah Wiley, of Highland; first settled near Dunmore, but now lives at Marlinton. He was a Confederate soldier and is a widely-known citizen.

Squire Hugh McLaughlin was married the second time to Mrs Elizabeth Gum, (nee Lightner), near Meadow Dale, Va. There were two sons by this marriage.

Harper McLaughlin first married Caroline Cackley, and lived at Marlinton. Second marriage was with Etta Teagley, of Travellers Repose.

A. M. McLaughlin married Mary M. G. Price, daughter of James A. and Margaret D. Price, of Marlinton's Bottom, and settled on the Marlinton homestead, lately sold to the Marlinton Development Co.

After residing a number of years near Dunmore, Squire McLaughlin located west of Huntersville, where he prospered in business. Thence he removed to Marlinton, where he died in 1870, aged 69 years. Squire McLaughlin was a prominent and influential citizen, a member of the county court, a ruling elder in the Presbyterian church. He acquired an immense landed estate—one of the most valuable in the county. His influence was largely in favor of economical industry, good morals, and intelligent piety. His business sagacity was phenomenal, and he could see money where most others could not see any thing worth looking for.

About fifty years ago the county court refused license to saloonkeepers. The whole county was convulsed with the agitation that arose. At first Squire McLaughlin strenuously objected to this action of the court as doing violence to personal liberty, and depriving the county of revenue, and making it that much harder for the tax-payers. Whenever the matter was discussed this thrilling Scripture was often repeated:

"Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that putteth thy bottle to him and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest look on their nakedness."—Hab. ii 16.

His conscience was touched and he resolved to clear himself of the fearful liability implied by doing any thing to license the giving of drink to neighbors; and let the revenue take care of itself, which it could well do with a sober, prosperous citizenship to depend on.

He was also much impressed by what was reported to have passed between two saloonists. One was complaining to another how his business had fallen off. The other saloonist remarked that at one time he noticed his business was on the decline, the "old suckers" were all going to the "bone-yard" so fast, and he saw if "new suckers" were not to be had he would have to quit the business. He told every young man that he met that he had laid in some of the nicest liquors that were ever brought on, and if he would come around he would give him a treat and would find out for himself what was nice. The saloonist observed that after three or four free drinks the youngsters would begin to buy and his business was on the rise quite satisfactorily. Thus he had found out that a few dimes in treating meant dollars to him in selling or salooning.

Squire McLaughlin's services as a member of the court for eighteen years were of much use, and along with John Gay, Paul McNeel, and Isaac Moore, being themselves large tax-payers, public affairs were managed on a judicious scale, and money, as a general thing, was laid out where the prospect seemed for the greatest good for the greatest number.

While these persons, and others like minded, were on the bench, the attorneys from a distance were in the habit of saying that the Pocahontas Court was so hide-bound and disagreeable that it was no use to try to do any thing with it or to make any thing out of it at the expense of the people. Moreover, they complained the court kept the county too dry by refusing saloon privileges. Reasons for such objections to the Pocahontas County Court we most devoutly hope may never cease to exist.

W. T. P.

—Water is generally reckoned to be soft when it contains less than 1-5000th part of its weight of mineral ingredients, and "hard" when it contains more than 1-4000th.

When grip or other epidemics are prevailing wear a little crude sulphur in your boots or shoes.

Avoid anything acid which has been kept in a tin can.

A
He th Tba
He lo
A le
"At le
"Th
He th Upo
He lo
His
"Unle
"Th
He th
Tha
He lo
The
"The
"Is
He th desc
He lo
A E
"If th
"Th
He th
The
He lo
A V
"Wer
"E
He th
The
He lo
A F
"You
"Th
He th
The
He lo
A I
"And
"Is
He th
Th
He lo
A I
"A fa
"E Embe At ion ti terch
the w man burea after gress hoste
the w preae wome
"You
"Cer man's anyw
Th wife but
and had ques made for n dresse
ment Ev
shar ishec had l ex-C with ione, inla agin At an c whit work negr negr
whit
"V float
"Y
"V river I'll
Th
for he shor O
his jeet ain I'm took man goin 370 whit
the ishe beat care year sout tion one clea
A best or k

Surgical Operation.

Mrs N. S. Duffield, near this place, is lying at the point of death from an abscess in her side. About sixteen years ago she was in a cherry tree, and, the limb breaking with her, she jumped to the ground a distance of sixteen feet. Since then she has been troubled with a pain in her side. The trouble grew worse recently. Dr Cunningham, by the use of an aspirator, has removed a large amount of matter from her side. This amount of wasting grew so large that it was weakening her daily.

The physician discovered a loose piece of bone which was the evident cause of the trouble. The patient was weakening so fast that it was necessary to do something speedily. An operation was decided upon, and it was performed by Dr Cunningham with the assistance of Mrs C. A. Yeager, who administered chloroform. When the incision was made it was discovered that the condition of that region was much more serious than had been supposed. The spinal column and ribs were diseased in several places. One rib was eaten entirely off. Over a hundred pieces of bone were taken out and one whole rib. An opening was discovered into the pleural cavity and a quantity of pus was extracted from this opening. It would be against reason to hope for her recovery.

The patient is a woman aged 38, and is the mother of a large family. She is greatly respected in the vicinity and great sympathy is expressed for her and her family in this trouble.

Instinct.

A keen observer of natural phenomena, says that old range cattle

Mr
were

C.
Stann
ty.

Mi
gie S in to

Mi
Neel
town

Ho
Morg
Marli

Cap
from is no

Cap
retain Oscar
lieute

Wi
Mr
ton l

Mr
in to

Mr sick Tw

near Se Dun

C. ton,
Ho

A. P up o
J.

go to the M
Th
morn

BIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

Squire Hugh McLaughlin,
Late of Marlinton.

THE third group of the McLaughlin relationship in our county are the descendants of Squire Hugh McLaughlin, late of Marlinton, West Va. His early life was spent in part on Jackson's River, Bath County.

His wife was Nancy Gwinn, daughter of John Gwinn, Sr., and grand-daughter of John Bradshaw, the founder of Huntersville.

Squire Hugh McLaughlin and Hugh McLaughlin, Esq., late of Huntersville, were cousins and were intimately associated when young men. They were married about the same time, jointly leased a piece of land on Jackson's River, built a cabin and went to housekeeping. There was but one room. This they divided between them and kept separate establishments. Squire McLaughlin would often tell how an axe, maul, and Wedge made up his original business capital, and how his house-keeping effects were carried by his young wife on a horse the day they went to themselves in their cabin home on leased land.

Upon the expiration of the lease early in the twenties, Squire McLaughlin settled in the woods on Thomas Creek and opened up lands now owned by his son, Geo. H. McLaughlin.

Mr and Mrs McLaughlin were the parents of three sons and two daughters. William Jacob, John Calvin, George Henry, Elizabeth, and Margaret.

Margaret, a promising young girl, died very suddenly.

Elizabeth became Mrs George Rohan, lived awhile on Roaring Creek, Randolph County, and finally located near the Hot Springs, where her family now lives. Mr Rohan was one of the builders of the Marlinton Bridge, 1854-5; a faithful Confederate soldier in the war from start to finish. His young wife refuged from Roaring Creek soon after the battle of Rich Mountain, with her two little children, one tied behind her and the other in her arms, and made the journey from Roaring Creek to the Warm Springs alone on horseback.

William Jacob McLaughlin first married Sarah Gum, from Meadow Dale, Highland County, and settled near Huntersville. One daughter, Nancy Jane, who died in early youth. His second marriage was with Susan Bible, daughter of Jacob Bible, near Green Bank. In this family were two sons and two daughters.

Elizabeth became Mrs John M. Lightner, lately of Abilene, Texas.

Alice was a teacher of public schools, married Dennis W. Dever, of Knapp's Creek, and they live near Frost.

Mitchell D. McLaughlin married Emma Kerr Greaver, of Bath, and lives near Savannah Mills, in Greenbrier County. They have five children.

Jacob Andrew McLaughlin married Sally Gibson, and lives at Brimfield, Indiana.

John O. McLaughlin married Isabella, daughter of Adam Lightner, of Highland County, and settled near Huntersville. When a youth going to school at Hillsboro he was thrown from a horse and received injuries that disabled him for manual labor. He acquired a good education, taught school, wrote in the Clerk's office, and was an expert business man greatly respected by his fellow citizens.

G. H. McLaughlin married Ruhamah Wiley, of Highland; first settled near Dunmore, but now lives at Marlinton. He was a Confederate soldier and is a widely-known citizen.

Squire Hugh McLaughlin was married the second time to Mrs Elizabeth Gum, (nee Lightner), near Meadow Dale, Va. There were two sons by this marriage.

Harper McLaughlin first married Caroline Cackley, and lived at Marlinton. Second marriage was with Etta Teagren, of Travellers Repose.

A. M. McLaughlin married Mary M. G. Price, daughter of James A. and Margaret D. Price, of Marlinton's Bottom, and settled on the Marlinton homestead, lately sold to the Marlinton Development Co.

After residing a number of years near Dunmore, Squire McLaughlin located west of Huntersville, where he prospered in business. Thence he removed to Marlinton, where he died in 1870, aged 69 years. Squire McLaughlin was a prominent and influential citizen, a member of the county court, a ruling elder in the Presbyterian church. He acquired an immense landed estate—one of the most valuable in the county. His influence was largely in favor of economical industry, good morals, and intelligent piety. His business sagacity was phenomenal, and he could see money where most others could not see any thing worth looking for.

About fifty years ago the county court refused license to saloon-keepers. The whole county was convulsed with the agitation that arose. At first Squire McLaughlin strenuously objected to this action of the court as doing violence to personal liberty, and depriving the county of revenue, and making it that much harder for the tax-payers. Whenever the matter was discussed this thrilling Scripture was often repeated:

"Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that putteth thy bottle to him and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest look on their nakedness."—Hab. ii 16.

His conscience was touched and he resolved to clear himself of the fearful liability implied by doing any thing to license the giving of drink to neighbors; and let the revenue take care of itself, which it could well do with a sober, prosperous citizenship to depend on.

He was also much impressed by what was reported to have passed between two saloonists. One was complaining to another how his business had fallen off. The other saloonist remarked that at one time he noticed his business was on the decline, the "old suckers" were all going to the "bone-yard" so fast, and he saw if "new suckers" were not to be had he would have to quit the business. He told every young man that he met that he had laid in some of the nicest liquors that were ever brought on, and if he would come around he would give him a treat and would find out for himself what was nice. The saloonist observed that after three or four free drinks the youngsters would begin to buy and his business was on the rise quite satisfactorily. Thus he had found out that a few dimes in treating meant dollars to him in selling or salooning.

Squire McLaughlin's services as a member of the court for eighteen years were of much use, and along with John Gay, Paul McNeel, and Isaac Moore, being themselves large tax-payers, public affairs were managed on a judicious scale, and money, as a general thing, was laid out where the prospect seemed for the greatest good for the greatest number.

While these persons, and others like minded, were on the bench, the attorneys from a distance were in the habit of saying that the Pocahontas Court was so hide-bound and disagreeable that it was no use to try to do any thing with it or to make any thing out of it at the expense of the people. Moreover, they complained the court kept the county too dry by refusing saloon privileges. Reasons for such objections to the Pocahontas County Court we most devoutly hope may never cease to exist.

W. T. P.

—Water is generally reckoned to be soft when it contains less than 1-5000th part of its weight of mineral ingredients, and "hard" when it contains more than 1-4000th.

When grip or other epidemics are prevailing wear a little crude sulphur in your boots or shoes.

Avoid anything acid which has been kept in a tin can.

A
He th Tba
He loc
A le
"At le
"Th
He th Upo
He loc
His
"Unle
"Th
He th
Tha
He loc
The
"The
"Is
He th desc
He loc
A E
"If th
"Th
He th
The
He loc
A V
"Wer
"E
He th
The
He loc
A F
"You
"Th
He th
The
He loc
A I
"And
"Is
He th
Th
He loc
A I
"A fa
"E Embe At ion th terch
the w man burea after gress hoste
the w preae wome
"You
"Cer man's anyw
Th wife but
and had ques made for n dresse
ment
Ev
shar ishec
had l ex-C with ione, inla
agin At an c whit
work negr
negr
whit
"V float
"Y
"V river I'll
Th
for he shor
O
his jeet
ain I'm
took man goin 370 whit
the ishe beat care
year sout tion
one clea
A best or k ber of med a nd are l trainutlaws sly by y state ity religion,

schoole been th mo-aining ses are

o Coun-
he time cket he e Doo-
on the
the late re, thus him to are 25
ies will
l. This a coun-
on.

nothing Senator
W. Va. has just ess life.
in very n child-
g-cabin,
of any d yet he ate, and nation.
devoted actions profesand re-niration,
all who elighted

are noent this ms? Re-er active ghts lack-and the ection of eams are ill deny mystery

that seem d are so h events
ever forter is the Told me recall the ed to be She and n infant, ties of a Southern ate then;
e, but in at that s of prey story—my thinking s, of her r's house,
two miles mbers, so ect health
she was o that ear-ame aware occurred;
especially r, and in ny mother
ed by her fall asleep
ilar dream.
ght tidings family. A ars, bright James had Mourning
he felt as sleep she d as much or the comved. tory always mind and something d, tho sci-
ry direction
d scientific productions
A. L. F. on State oc-
et with diaies. Its val-
is said to

Pocahontas School Statistics.

Our thanks are due Hon Virgil A. Lewis, State Superintendent of Free Schools, for a copy of his twelfth Biennial Report. It is a model of its kind, and is replete with information respecting the condition of the school system. Superintendent Barlow's report for Pocahontas is equal to the best of the county reports. The following items are given for the information of our patrons from the report for 1896.

EDRAY.
President Board of Education, Jacob S. Moore; Secretary, J. E. Barlow. Schools, 25. White enumerated, 715; colored enumerated, 42. Total 757. White enrollment, 611; colored, 34. Total 645. Total valuation of property, $864,491.65. Levy for building fund, 6 cents; rate for teachers fund, 21 cents; total of building fund, $401.61; total teachers fund, $2,143.62.

GREEN BANK.
President, S. B. Hannah; Secretary, J. H. Curry. Schools, 23; white enumeration, 609; colored, none;—total, 609. White enrollment, 519. Property valuation, $645,257.51. Levy building fund, 5c; teachers fund, 34. Total building fund, 324.81. Total teacher's fund, $2,196.91.

HUNTERSVILLE.
President, J. H. Doyle; Secretary, W. H. Grose. Schools, 13. White enumeration, 365; colored, 21. White enrollment, 315; colored, none. Property valuation, $393,363.88. Levy, building fund, 5;—$198.95; teachers fund, 36;—$1,432.90.

LEVELS.
President, Isaac McNeel, Mill Point; Secretary, R. W. Hill, Academy. Schools, 16. White enumeration, 588; colored, 36;—total 623. White enrollment, 448; colored, 24;—472. Property valuation, $609,103.76. Levy building fund, 7; teachers fund, 25. Total, $425.44; $1,522.21.

REMARKS.

In summing up the totals for the whole county the following is found: Schools, 77; white enumeration, 2277; colored, 99; total, 2376. White enrollment, 1893; colored, 58. Valuation, $2,512,216.80. Building fund, $1,520.83; teachers fund, $7,296.64.

The following from a tabulated statement given by Superintendent Barlow, shows the cost of education per pupil, including teachers' salaries and current expenses:

Edray District.—Based on enumeration, 4.29; on attendance, 7.76; on enrollment, 5.03.

Green Bank.—On enumeration, 5.25; on enrollment, 6.18; attendance, 8.47.

Huntersville.—Enumeration, 5.43; enrollment, 7.17; attendance, 10.83.

Levels.—Enumeration, 4.18; enrollment, 5.53; attendance, 8.26.

Thirty-three male and forty-one female teachers were employed in the public schools for 1896. In looking over the reports of superintendents, there is a surprising agreement as to the necessity of a judicious compulsory school law, in order to secure proper efficiency for the public school system in our State.

VICE-PRESIDENT Adlai E. Stevenson has large property interests California. He has an olive grove near Etiwanda, in which are growing the best varieties of Italian olives, a lemon grove in San Diego county, and 800 acres of land in Riverside. He will go to California to look after his interests as soon as his term as Vice-President expires.

AN EXAMPLE FOR US.—"You may talk as you like," said the solid citizen, "but there was one good thing about the gladiator fights of olden times."
"What was that?"
"The loser never had a chance to talk to the papers and explain why he lost."—Truth.

HE TOOK NO CHANCES.—"Here is my obolus, ferry me across," Charon looked at the young man, sized him up, then pounded him into insensibility with an oar.

"This fellow," he explained to the other passengers, as he threw the body under a seat, "is one of the fools who love to rock a boat."

All agreed that it was a deed of justice.—Truth.

The Wee

It is easy to I have been plu awkward position that I remember was when I was the corn, and I watermelon too large as you p companions and ways in the field we were not i might have bee uralists. Never escaped our noti even steal wad what was in the about four fee age when water other peoples' ing to us.

We stopped nation. Kneeli we pressed it to order to see wh If ripe, we woul have left it or owner of the fie no crack, but w leave it in that not a conclusiv cided that it w plugged, and b Barlow knife in an humble port resounded to a my bosom fri owner of the r carrying in his or something o he had taken tl with. He was able man to de met. My expl trying to diss was not free fr My part of the was more nois and the halter- on me.

I have been often. Once a my ticket with seeing that the was busy, just tion I attem change ont of had seen the j do from the ce man got absol gave me the felt inclined t afraid that l banked on my he was unnee he was only m

Next to bei think that to l erie broken up the nerves. C a beautiful S early spring, l town without fonce and I st etary. There I took a seat either the bal ful repose of me to lapse ir ing spell. I all of my rela I was good fo thoughts wen and I fancied do good and being made surroundings have written that would hi rows of men, and restful!

Suddenly l a piece bitter ing up I four with ants, th I was sitting and the big, exploring my derhanded w der my cloth realized wha would not l bite, but sat and ants had of my surfac of course al ness of my and jumping myself wher seemed to b a half-minut self on ever and there w ing on for shoulder bl to get them tect myself feel my whe

ber of med a nd are l trainutlaws sly by y state
ity religion,
schoole been
th mo-aining ses are

o Coun-
he time cket he
e Doo-
on the
the late re, thus him to
are 25
ies will
l. This a coun-
on.

nothing Senator
W. Va. has just ess life.
in very n child-
g-cabin,
of any
d yet he ate, and nation.
devoted actions profes-
and re-niration,
all who elighted

are noent this ms? Re-er active ghts lack-
and the ection of eams are ill deny mystery

that seem d are so
h events
ever forter is the Told me
recall the ed to be
She and n infant,
ties of a Southern
ate then;
e, but in
at that s of prey
story—my thinking
s, of her
r's house,
two miles mbers, so ect health
she was o that ear-ame aware occurred;
especially r, and in ny mother
ed by her fall asleep
ilar dream.
ght tidings
family. A ars, bright James had Mourning
he felt as sleep she d as much or the comved. tory always mind and something d, tho sci-
ry direction
d scientific productions
A. L. F. on State oc-
et with dia-
ies. Its val-
is said to

Pocahontas School Statistics.

Our thanks are due Hon Virgil A. Lewis, State Superintendent of Free Schools, for a copy of his twelfth Biennial Report. It is a model of its kind, and is replete with information respecting the condition of the school system. Superintendent Barlow's report for Pocahontas is equal to the best of the county reports. The following items are given for the information of our patrons from the report for 1896.

EDRAY.
President Board of Education, Jacob S. Moore; Secretary, J. E. Barlow. Schools, 25. White enumerated, 715; colored enumerated, 42. Total 757. White enrollment, 611; colored, 34. Total 645. Total valuation of property, $864,491.65. Levy for building fund, 6 cents; rate for teachers fund, 21 cents; total of building fund, $401.61; total teachers fund, $2,143.62.

GREEN BANK.
President, S. B. Hannah; Secretary, J. H. Curry. Schools, 23; white enumeration, 609; colored, none;—total, 609. White enrollment, 519. Property valuation, $645,257.51. Levy building fund, 5c; teachers fund, 34. Total building fund, 324.81. Total teacher's fund, $2,196.91.

HUNTERSVILLE.
President, J. H. Doyle; Secretary, W. H. Grose. Schools, 13. White enumeration, 365; colored, 21. White enrollment, 315; colored, none. Property valuation, $393,363.88. Levy, building fund, 5;—$198.95; teachers fund, 36;—$1,432.90.

LEVELS.
President, Isaac McNeel, Mill Point; Secretary, R. W. Hill, Academy. Schools, 16. White enumeration, 588; colored, 36;—total 623. White enrollment, 448; colored, 24;—472. Property valuation, $609,103.76. Levy building fund, 7; teachers fund, 25. Total, $425.44; $1,522.21.

REMARKS.

In summing up the totals for the whole county the following is found: Schools, 77; white enumeration, 2277; colored, 99; total, 2376. White enrollment, 1893; colored, 58. Valuation, $2,512,216.80. Building fund, $1,520.83; teachers fund, $7,296.64.

The following from a tabulated statement given by Superintendent Barlow, shows the cost of education per pupil, including teachers' salaries and current expenses:

Edray District.—Based on enumeration, 4.29; on attendance, 7.76; on enrollment, 5.03.

Green Bank.—On enumeration, 5.25; on enrollment, 6.18; attendance, 8.47.

Huntersville.—Enumeration, 5.43; enrollment, 7.17; attendance, 10.83.

Levels.—Enumeration, 4.18; enrollment, 5.53; attendance, 8.26.

Thirty-three male and forty-one female teachers were employed in the public schools for 1896. In looking over the reports of superintendents, there is a surprising agreement as to the necessity of a judicious compulsory school law, in order to secure proper efficiency for the public school system in our State.

VICE-PRESIDENT Adlai E. Stevenson has large property interests California. He has an olive grove near Etiwanda, in which are growing the best varieties of Italian olives, a lemon grove in San Diego county, and 800 acres of land in Riverside. He will go to California to look after his interests as soon as his term as Vice-President expires.

AN EXAMPLE FOR US.—"You may talk as you like," said the solid citizen, "but there was one good thing about the gladiator fights of olden times."
"What was that?"
"The loser never had a chance to talk to the papers and explain why he lost."—Truth.

HE TOOK NO CHANCES.—"Here is my obolus, ferry me across," Charon looked at the young man, sized him up, then pounded him into insensibility with an oar.

"This fellow," he explained to the other passengers, as he threw the body under a seat, "is one of the fools who love to rock a boat." All agreed that it was a deed of justice.—Truth.

The Wee

It is easy to I have been plu awkward position that I remember was when I was the corn, and I watermelon too large as you p companions and ways in the field we were not i might have bee uralists. Never escaped our noti even steal wad what was in the about four fee age when water other peoples' ing to us.

We stopped nation. Kneeli we pressed it to order to see wh If ripe, we woul have left it or owner of the fie no crack, but w leave it in that not a conclusiv cided that it w plugged, and b Barlow knife in an humble port resounded to a my bosom fri owner of the r carrying in his or something o he had taken tl with. He was able man to de met. My expl trying to diss was not free fr My part of the was more nois and the halter-on me.

I have been often. Once a my ticket with seeing that the was busy, just tion I attem change ont of had seen the j do from the ce man got absol gave me the felt inclined t afraid that l banked on my he was unnee he was only m

Next to bei think that to l erie broken up the nerves. C a beautiful S early spring, l town without fonce and I st etary. There I took a seat either the bal ful repose of me to lapse ir ing spell. I all of my rela I was good fo thoughts wen and I fancied do good and being made surroundings have written that would hi rows of men, and restful!

Suddenly l a piece bitter ing up I four with ants, th I was sitting and the big, exploring my derhanded w der my cloth realized wha would not l bite, but sat and ants had of my surfac of course al ness of my and jumping myself wher seemed to b a half-minut self on ever and there w ing on for shoulder bl to get them tect myself feel my whe

WHO IS "UNCLE SAM?"

This query is suggested by the fact that no figure appears more frequently and conspicuously in the cartoons of the period than his or whose name is oftener repeated. Nothing seems to thrill the nerves or warm the blood like "Uncle Sam" and his favorite refrain, Humanity, Patriotism and an Honorable Peace. Uncle Sam is the metaphorical impersonation of all that is distinctively American. He is a part of all that he has ever met. as Tennyson would put it. Hence he is not Yankee, German, Irish, French, Hungarian, Slavic, Spanish, nor, which is best of all, English.

Uncle Sam is the genuine, cosmopolitan American, conglomerating and fusing into his make-up all nationalities and creeds, and hence he represents the stunning force of the physical and mental power of the civilized world at this period, the closing hours of the nineteenth century. He holds near his heart a flag that symbolizes the development of free thought and and unfettered conscience.

John Sherman, the old man eloquent of American politics, the Gladstone, so to speak, was about right when he said, "Spain threatens but does not mean to fight, England makes promises she does not mean to keep."

Uncle Sam cannot afford to break his promises, for republics are founded on truth as the people understand it. While monarchies lean on pretenses and misleading phrases. Demagogues and crowned heads understand each other. They aim to deceive each other, and that, with them, is statesmanship or diplomacy. The parties referred to, have gone rather farther than they had intended, and now Uncle Sam is on his mettle and thinks he bears the people of all Europe, Asia, and Africa calling to him to give the signal to rise for liberty, truth, justice and equity among all nations. What he is going to do about it, the reader may make whatever conjectures he pleases, so he makes them bigger than anything that has yet happened in the world's great history.

S. C. R.

The reception of the catalog of

AN

Superi

We are JAMES W.
date for t ent of Fre County, s
the Democ

I hereby didate for Superinte
and kindl
the Prima Yo

Fellow Citi
I hereby didate for perintende
ject to the ic Primary June 4, 18
yoursuppo

To the Vote
At the friends, I self as a c Superinte
Pocahont
action of If elected
all in my cause of county.

Coun

We are Amos Ba
the office
for the Co
ject to the ic primary

To the vote
I hereb candidate missioner Pocahont
action of the Prima 1898.

Clover

Ho

We are

I. B. Moc
for the H
the Dem
to be held

A corr
ing Regis
an intervi Wetzel
reached t
having b

WHO IS "UNCLE SAM?"

This query is suggested by the fact that no figure appears more frequently and conspicuously in the cartoons of the period than his or whose name is oftener repeated. Nothing seems to thrill the nerves or warm the blood like "Uncle Sam" and his favorite refrain, Humanity, Patriotism and an Honorable Peace. Uncle Sam is the metaphorical impersonation of all that is distinctively American. He is a part of all that he has ever met. as Tennyson would put it. Hence he is not Yankee, German, Irish, French, Hungarian, Slavic, Spanish, nor, which is best of all, English.

Uncle Sam is the genuine, cosmopolitan American, conglomerating and fusing into his make-up all nationalities and creeds, and hence he represents the stunning force of the physical and mental power of the civilized world at this period, the closing hours of the nineteenth century. He holds near his heart a flag that symbolizes the development of free thought and and unfettered conscience.

John Sherman, the old man eloquent of American politics, the Gladstone, so to speak, was about right when he said, "Spain threatens but does not mean to fight, England makes promises she does not mean to keep."

Uncle Sam cannot afford to break his promises, for republics are founded on truth as the people understand it. While monarchies lean on pretenses and misleading phrases. Demagogues and crowned heads understand each other. They aim to deceive each other, and that, with them, is statesmanship or diplomacy. The parties referred to, have gone rather farther than they had intended, and now Uncle Sam is on his mettle and thinks he bears the people of all Europe, Asia, and Africa calling to him to give the signal to rise for liberty, truth, justice and equity among all nations. What he is going to do about it, the reader may make whatever conjectures he pleases, so he makes them bigger than anything that has yet happened in the world's great history.

S. C. R.

The reception of the catalog of

AN

Superi

We are JAMES W.
date for t ent of Fre County, s
the Democ

I hereby didate for Superinte
and kindl
the Prima Yo

Fellow Citi
I hereby didate for perintende
ject to the ic Primary June 4, 18
yoursuppo

To the Vote
At the friends, I self as a c Superinte
Pocahont
action of If elected
all in my cause of county.

Coun

We are Amos Ba
the office
for the Co
ject to the ic primary

To the vote
I hereb candidate missioner Pocahont
action of the Prima 1898.

Clover

Ho

We are

I. B. Moc
for the H
the Dem
to be held

A corr
ing Regis
an intervi Wetzel
reached t
having b

larger sum to produce it from American mines.

School Commissioners Sale of Lands.

Pursuant to a decree of the Circuit Court of Pocahontas county, West Virginia, made at the April term of said court, 1898 in the chancery cause of

State of West Virginia
versus

J. W. F. Allemong and others,

I will proceed on the 21st day of June, 1898, it being the first day of June term of court, 1898, at the front door of the court house of Pocahontas county to sell to the highest bidder at public auction the following described real estate, viz:

The mineral privilege in a certain tract of 710 acres situated on Browns Mountain in Pocahontas County, West Virginia. Said mineral privilege to extend for a term of 99 years from May 22d, 1873, with option to renew for a like period, being the same privilege conveyed to J. D. Price by Samuel Harper on May 22d, 1873, and forfeited in the name of J. W. F. Allemong.

Terms of Sale: CASH.

B. M. YEAGER,
School Commissioner.

Commissioner's Sale OF

The four n finely valuation tion o
the e sold.

TEL
of sale
and th install three which bond, good he ret

L. M ton, tw ers, ha
me the
by the ed acc
Give
day of

U

Good a li any much

larger sum to produce it from American mines.

School Commissioners Sale of Lands.

Pursuant to a decree of the Circuit Court of Pocahontas county, West Virginia, made at the April term of said court, 1898 in the chancery cause of

State of West Virginia
versus

J. W. F. Allemong and others,

I will proceed on the 21st day of June, 1898, it being the first day of June term of court, 1898, at the front door of the court house of Pocahontas county to sell to the highest bidder at public auction the following described real estate, viz:

The mineral privilege in a certain tract of 710 acres situated on Browns Mountain in Pocahontas County, West Virginia. Said mineral privilege to extend for a term of 99 years from May 22d, 1873, with option to renew for a like period, being the same privilege conveyed to J. D. Price by Samuel Harper on May 22d, 1873, and forfeited in the name of J. W. F. Allemong.

Terms of Sale: CASH.

B. M. YEAGER,
School Commissioner.

Commissioner's Sale OF

The four n
finely valuation
tion o
the e sold.

TEL
of sale
and th install three which bond, good he ret

L. M ton, tw
ers, ha
me the
by the ed acc
Give
day of

U

Good a li any much

that this is the one and only unpardonable sin of the new dispensation.

The Stage.

The performance at the town hall Wednesday night by a new company composed of the young boys and girls of the place was entirely free and enjoyable. Preparation and drills for the occasion occupied the labor of several days. The music was fine. The black comedy acts by girls and small boys, a variation of negro minstrelsy, were uncommonly amusing; and the chorus "Hot Times" was simply ridiculous. The hoop drill, by twelve young ladies, excited admiration, and was repeated in all its sinuous details.

Misses Daisy Yeager and Emma King were the managers of this affair, and that their efforts were successful all present Wednesday night will attest.

The old Marlinton dramatic company seems to have made its final disappearance, but this latter organization has both the spirit and the ability to furnish amusement and relaxation to the toilers in the town and vicinity.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. W. Baxter, of Academy, was